ELECTRIC POWER.

Every plumber, carpenter and hardware merchant ought to have a small electric motor, say one-half horse power.

You will be surprised at the kind and amount of work that can be done with a motor of this size, such as sharpening skates, scythes and all kinds of cutlery, polishing and grinding metals, splitting and cutting up stock for window and door screens, etc.

The motors are cheap and the cost of operation is very small. Let us help you in any matter pertaining to power.

The Polymnia of Newton.

Few of our musical people realize the existence of this fine female chorus under the directorship of Madame Isidora Martinez. The concert in Temple Hall Thursday evening was a revelation of what culture and skill can do in so short a time with the musical ladies of our city.

The program was a discriminating selection of the sweetest and the choicest four part songs by the best composers. They were rendered in the most appreciative manner of true music and its correct expression. Madame Martinez's solos proved her a singer of rare capability. The violin solos of Miss Elsie Stuart Kimberly of our own city proved her the master of that bewitching instrument. The solo and chorus singing and fine instrumentation in the obligatos made the concert most brilliant and charming.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CIVIC CLUB.

The Relation of Newton to the Metropolitan District Very Ably Discussed.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Civic Club was held last Friday night at the Newton Club house, an informal reception at six o'clock preceding the dinner.

The guests of the club were Mr. E. B. Haskell of the Metropolitan Park Commission, Mr. James A. Bailey Jr. of Arlington of the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage Board, and Mr. Alfred D. Chandler and Representative Joseph Walker of Brookline.

After disposing of the menu, to the accompaniment of music from Handley's orchestra, President John W. Weeks appointed a nominating committee consisting of Ex-aldermen O. M. Fisher and Geo. Hutchinson and Alderman Frank A. Day to report a list of officers for the ensuing year.

The subject for discussion was the relation of Newton to the Metropolitan district. Mr. Haskell the first speaker, said that Newton had always had a fine constituency, but notwithstanding its present influence it would be of but little consequence were it not a part of the metropolitan district.

The 12 cities and 24 towns surrounding Boston, have with that city, an area about as large as Chicago and a population in 1900 of 1,200,000. This population has usually doubled itself every 25 years. The needs of this population, expressed through 37 different municipalities have led to the creation of metropolitan works such as sewers, parks and water.

The park system began about 1892, following an exhaustive report of Chas. Eliot, when one million dollars were appropriated to purchase certain natural park lands. Its sponsors never dreamed at that time but that a few million dollars would be required.

Since that time the commission itself has never asked the Legislature for a dollar, the subsequent appropriations being made on petitions of citizens.

The work of developing has gone on much faster than originally contemplated, the labor troubles of 1903 leading to the work of boulevard construction, and all the work has been well done so that when the present payments are completed, Boston will have the finest park system in this country if not in the world. Mr. Haskell referred to the Charles River Basin as one of the finest civic improvements in the world.

In the future, he said there was also nothing in the way of new lands to be acquired, and when the present continuing appropriations of $300,000 annually for five years for maintenance and for boulevard construction, are concluded, the work will be so near completion that the commission will not ask for more money.

Mr. Haskell also said that Newton people have thought more of this city than they have of the metropolitan district, and believed that we ought to take pride in obtaining more healthful conditions for the maintenance of the large population which is surely coming.

Mr. Bailey made a clear cut, forceful address that almost convinced one that the metropolitan water system was the most beneficent scheme ever proposed by man.

After complimenting Mayor Weed's recent address, he stated that water and sewer systems were never completed, the constantly increasing population continually demanding expansions and additions.

He warned the city that the present Charles river sewer originally planned to last until 1930, had by reason of the greatly increased population of the district, become too small, and that in two years, at present rate, it would be overcharged in times of storm. A new high level sewer had been planned to meet this emergency, which would cost $1,000,000 to the Newton line, and $1,000,000 more to Newton Lower Falls. Through Newton this sewer would go through Tremont, Park, Vernon, Eldredge, Hollis, Mt. Ida, Newtonville ave, Cabot Park, Laundry brook, Harvard, Washington Pk, Highland ave, Austin st, Mt Vernon st, B. and A. to Marginal st, to Lower Falls. For this purpose, the state would seize the present local sewers of Newton paying about $300,000 therefor. The extension of this sewer through Newton would be for the purpose of reaching Weston, Wellesley and Needham, and is probably a matter of over ten years in the future. Newton at present pays about one seventh of the expense of the district, amounting to $52,000. Next year its assessment will be $92,000. When the high level sewer is built to the Newton line, another $10,000 will be added and when completed to Lower Falls the assessment will be about $82,000 where it ought to remain.

In return for this investment, you have had an honest administration, economical construction and will own the entire plant. Mr. Bailey criticized the method of payment which placed the premiums on bonds sold to the credit of the interest account, and admitted that the bill had been made too easy to swallow.

Referring to the water supply he declared it was the best business enterprise that the state had ever entered into. He instanced Somerville which made a profit of $100,000 a year and Boston which was making several times that amount. He closed with an argument that Newton had done the wise thing in joining the water district at the beginning and not waiting until water was actually needed.

Mr. Alfred D. Chandler, who was one of the Brookline committee, which proposed the plan to allow each municipality to pay its share of metropolitan improvements directly to the state and issue serial bonds in payment therefor, was the next speaker. Mr. Chandler criticized the state for imposing these large debts upon the district and denying it the great benefit of serial bonds. He then read extracts from a forthcoming document of the Town of Brookline to emphasize the advantage of serial bonds over sinking fund payments. In reply to questions, he stated that Brookline did not propose to avoid any of its future obligations to the district and if the basis of payment was changed in the future, it expected to pay any excess over present rates. If the basis was reduced, it expected to stand the loss.

Representative Walker criticized the state's method of reporting the condition of its finances, and the labor involved in placing the reasons for any increase in state or metropolitan debts. He also criticized the application of premiums to interest accounts and bore particularly heavy upon the present sinking fund of light payments for the first few years gradually increasing so that the tax payers of the last period of ten years had the heaviest payments to make.

Following the discussion the Treasurer's report was accepted, and these officers elected:

President, Hon William F. Dana, vice presidents, ex-mayors Fenno, Bothfeld, Cobb, Wilson, Pickard, and Weeks. Secy-Treas. J. C. Brimblecom, Executive Committee, J. A. Lowell, E. W. Warren and H. B. Day.

A vote of thanks was given the speakers and the club adjourned. Among those present were Hon. W. F. Dana, Hon. E. L. Pickard, Aldermen Dennison, Day, Cabot, White and Bosson, ex-aldermen Lowell, Warren, Bullard, French, White, Stickney, Lothrop, Pulsifer, Hutchinson, Fisher, Barber, Henry Bailey, ex-councilmen Hale, Hatch, A. R. Bailey, Frisbie, Barber, Wiswall, Read, and City Auditor Otis.

A GOOD IDEA.

The Auburndale Village Improvement Society desiring to cooperate with the city authorities in the extermination of the Brown Tail and Gypsy Moth, have purchased ladders and pruners which may be borrowed at the shop of Mr. P. A. McVicar. It being expressly understood that the same shall be returned at the close of each day, and the borrowers shall be responsible. This work of destroying these pests must be done before the warm days come. The leaves still clinging to the trees contain the moths and they must be removed and burned by the middle of March at the latest, it is not too early to begin now. All must co-operate to make this work effectual. Let every citizen do his part that the shade trees may not be stripped of their beautiful foliage and the fruit trees made barren, as has been the result in many of the surrounding cities and towns.

MORE MONEY IN APPLES THAN OTHER FRUITS.

E. W. Wood of West Newton speaks Before the Horticultural Society on Fruit.

A general discussion of the topic of "Fruit" was held at the weekly meeting at Horticultural hall, Boston, Saturday, and E. W. Wood of West Newton, for twenty five years on the fruit committee of the society gave a very interesting popular talk upon the subject, followed by a general discussion.

Mr. Wood, who retired from the committee this year, is one of the leading experts on the subject in this country, and from his wide experience he gave some valuable suggestions to the members present. Mr. Wood said the original organization of the Horticultural Society was due to the fruit growers of Boston and its suburbs.

The larger the amounts given for prizes by the society the greater has been the interest in this subject. The two leading fruits for New England are the apple and the pear, and he said he knew of no better opportunity for a young man without money on a farm today than in growing apples. Very few orchards around New England are kept properly, apples are not grown as a crop as they should be. The soil, the climate the abandoned farms of Massachusetts are all favorable to apple raising. From Boston last year half a million barrels were exported. The Baldwin apple is our best commercial variety, but those living near markets should have more than one variety. There is little trouble in marketing good apples. The trouble is that the farmers do not keep their sizes or apples separately, do not properly prepare them for market. He told of one apple grower in Massachusetts who thinned has apples and who always prepared them properly for market. He was able to sell Rhode Island Greenings in New York for $3.25 per barrel and Baldwins in New York for $3 when the general run of farmers' apples was being sold at seventy-five cents a barrel.

There is no crop, declared Mr. Wood, which requires so little fertilization and so little expense in cultivation as the apple, and there is no reason why any farmer cannot have a good crop of apples and market them at good prices, if he goes about it in the right way. Mr. Wood said that the apple crop can be brought in ten years after planting, and small fruits in the meantime give the grower a profit.

Mr. Wood also gave some valuable and interesting suggestions regarding culture of pears and other fruits. He advocated the pear growing on the roots of the quince and also the growing of dwarf trees, instead of alternating large and small trees. The cutting out of growing pear trees is a difficult matter, but in alternate planting it must be done. We have too many kinds of pears, the speaker said, and while forty years ago Colonel Wilder showed 47 varieties, he told his friends that the valuable varieties could be counted on the fingers. Mr. Wood recommended for commercial pears the Bartlett, Sheldon, Clartigan, Dana's Hovey, Anjou, Seckel and Bosc as the best varieties. For home use probably more Dana's Hovey are grown than any other variety.

Mr. Wood then gave an account of the methods of growing peaches, but he said that in most of New England the peach is an uncertain crop as all varieties are subject to the yellows and the freezing of buds in winter. However, the Connecticut growers succeed very well by planting orchards each year.

BENEATH THE GILDED DOME.

A legislative letter at the most can hardly be interesting before the legislature does something. The first month of the session has passed peacefully away and, aside from appropriating money for the pay of the members, and other state officials, very little, as usual, has been accomplished. The committee work, with the exception of three or four committees, has not yet been attempted. Out of twenty legislative working days not more than twenty hours have been devoted to legislative work. This is said, not in any spirit of criticism, it is rather in explanation of the manner in which the month of January is consumed on Beacon Hill. To the distinctively new member the January record in the legislature is a revelation. It belongs to the mystic zone in human experience, and the man who comes to the legislature for the first time is in sympathy with that member from Western Massachusetts a few years ago, who said, when asked as he was coming down from the State House one day, "I am going home to ask my folks what in thunder I am down here for." These new members are willing, but the flesh is weak. They are as clay in the hands of the potter, and when, in the course of time, they become old members, they are no longer clay, but potters. The veteran legislators, and there are many this year, know perfectly well that the last month has been frittered away in non-essential service. It must be discouraging at least to the presiding officers who announce the committees the third day of the session to find so little done as the month goes out. But then, as Judge Parker said, "What's the use?"

Last Thursday, in the House, was given up to the 9th and 12th joint rules, and rather a lively time of it there was, too. Just as the flood was at its height, Mr. Luce called the attention of the members to the fact that a mass of business was being floated in upon the bosom of legislative waters, that would cause no little trouble later on. Then it became evident that the members, as a body, had little knowledge of what the two rules really were, and Mr. Taft of Worcester made a very lucid explanation of the purpose of those rules. Mr. Taft also intimated that the Committee on Rules was formulating a new rule which it was hoped would give some force to propositions contained in the 9th and 12th joint rules. These two rules, by the way, relate to the admission of new business which failed to get into the hands of the clerks before the time limit had expired. An amusing incident occurred during the debate. Mr. Hannan of Boston asked, as a special favor, that the House would admit a measure which Mr. Luce had interrupted. Mr. Hannan said that he sent it off to the State House at two o'clock last Saturday with the Bill and that the boy did not arrive in the Clerk's office until 5:40. The distance would consume about fifteen minutes of time even if the trip were taken at easy stages. The House evidently thought that an office boy who would show such contempt for the great and general court as to consume three hours and forty minutes in approaching the temple of supreme justice should be rebuked, consequently the bill was turned back and began its long journey to Mr. Hannan's office.

Representative Ward of Buckland, there is no other Ward this year in the legislature, as Mr. Ward has warded off all other members of the family so the "of Buckland" is superfluous has been trying his hand at presiding over the House during the past week, as in other things, he has made a success of the undertaking. The Buckland member has done more to make the little Franklin County town well known than any citizen has ever attempted before in its history. He is a "forty-niner," having been born in that historic year, and has been elected, not by his town, but by his district, for four years. He has risen from a low seat in the Committee on Agriculture in 1902, to the Chairmanship of the most important committee in the House, that of Ways and Means. Where Mr. Ward will land when he leaves his air ship is a problem, and some of the reasons for his remarkable legislative career, as observed by a Boston writer, will be considered in some future issue of this paper.

Somewhat has thought of something that will cause Congressman Sullivan many restless nights if the thought is allowed to ripen, and that is that Speaker Frothingham should be a candidate for Congress from the famous 11th Congressional District in Boston. This is the district where Mr. Foss has made his run for Congress in the two previous contests, and has been beaten each time by Charlie Sullivan. If the Speaker should take the nomination in the next campaign, Mr. Sullivan would find a different proposition, for Louis Frothingham has a star set in his forehead of a peculiar hue, and Sullivan's sense of ownership has been magnified beyond its just proportions. He belongs to a very lucky political race but that fact won't always win out, even in Boston.

The Committee on Prisons visited Charles Street Jail the other day and reported the jail to be in apple-pie order. Did any legislative committee ever visit any public institution officially and find it in any other than apple-pie order? These official visits to the public institution by committees comes as near junketing as anything unless it be the special committees that go off to visit battle fields, after the battles are over, and world's fairs while the fairs are going on. The committee that went to the Charles Street jail said everything was in apple-pie order, and the committee probably had apple pie when the banquet was served. The committee, while there, visited the apartments lately occupied by ex-representative Curley, who has recently served a sentence in that institution for forgetting who he was.

The gas "kicker" will have a brief spell of rejoicing on the bill which has been introduced compelling the gas companies to give thirty days' notice before they can shut off the gas, for the bill will hardly become a law. If some measure could be devised and legislated into law, shutting off the gas meter, there would be cause for rejoicing that would come pretty near developing into a celebration. There is but little use in caulk the cracks and leaving open the bung holes. A citizen of a town near Boston shut up his house and took his family to Europe for three months and his gas bill for that period was 20 cents less than for the three months previous, when he burned considerable gas and his servants consumed a good deal more. The gas meter, like the tax bill, goes trotting along, drawing interest holidays, Sundays and all.

It is said that there is to be a united effort on liquor law legislation this session, in which the various organizations of the liquor trade are to be reinforced by certain temperance advocates, with the object in view of correcting some present evils. There is a good deal that might be said on liquor legislation, and perhaps an opportunity may be afforded during the hearing before the committee, and possibly before. At the present moment, it would provide considerable entertainment to look upon a new Biographic picture, the combination of liquor organizations and temperance advocates. If Mr. Keith could secure the right sort of snapshots of this proposed combination it would be a fine entertainment for the members to visit during the hearing. For example, a combination picture, presenting Ex-Mayor Johnson of Waltham and Colonel Charles Pfaff, President of the Hotel Association, engaged in a combination conversation over the Semi-Colon Law also another picture of Henry Faxon extending the glad hand to the liquor attorney, Mr. Edward F. Hollis, as they might sit down to a combination lunch at the Parker House to talk over the proposed abutment law. Interest will centre about House Bills 447-231 and Senate Bill 105, and the amendment to the Semi-Colon Law, which has been offered by Attorney Hollis.

DEATH OF WILLIAM H. BROWN.

Mr. William H. Brown, for twelve years a resident of Newtonville, died last Monday morning at his residence on Brooks avenue, after a long and painful illness with Bright's disease. Mr. Brown was born in Malden in 1860 and was the eldest son of Harriet and the late William H. Brown. For many years he resided in Charlestown and was connected with the wholesale coal business in Boston as salesman, but the greater part of his life he was an accountant. Ill health, however, necessitated his withdrawal from Boston and during his residence in Newtonville he was associated with Mr. Fred J. Read as bookkeeper.

He is survived by a mother, two sisters, Mrs. Arthur P. Lake and Mrs. L. P. Seaver of New York city, and a brother, Mr. Charles W. Brown of Boston.

Quiet and unassuming, Mr. Brown made friends with all who came in contact with him, and during his months of sickness, many expressions of regard and affection were manifested. There was a large attendance at the funeral services held Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock, at which Rev. Albert L. Squier officiated. The Albion Quartet sang "O, Paradise," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Abide With Me" and the interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Arthur P. Lake of New York, Chas. W. Brown of Boston, and Fred J. Read and Frank Amidon of Newtonville.

Among Women.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club held its regular meeting at the Unitarian church parlors, at 10 o'clock in Bray hall, Monday, January 23. Mrs. Anna L. Bailey and Mrs. Charlotte French were appointed delegates to represent the club at the meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation to be held in Woburn, February 8. The Social Science Committee, Mrs. Anna L. Bailey, chairman, introduced Miss Katherine Coman, professor of Political Economy, at Wellesley College, who gave a talk on the Hawaiian Islands, illustrated by photographs. The Choral Class, under the direction of Miss Alice Morton, sang "Doris" by Ethelbert Nevin with obligato by Miss Ethel Fleu. The education Committee, Mrs. H. L. Roquemore, chairman, announced for speaker Friday, February 10, Miss Doria Stone Place, of the Connecticut State Federation who will tell "The True Story of Nathan Hale" and of her experience in the New York Lecture Course. Social hour and tea.

The Newtonville Woman's Guild held a Query Box under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Adams at the meeting at the New Church last Tuesday afternoon. The questions considered were "Do American Women take real rest and relaxation enough?" "Should a person visit important places of interest in their own country before going abroad?" "Is there a tendency at the present to delay marriage to long?" "Should corporal punishment ever be inflicted on children?" "What Should Children

Read? A home meeting will be held Feb. 7th in charge of Mrs. Wilkins; topic "Civil Service."

The Newton Thursday Woman's Club will meet next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in Bray hall. The Literature committee, Mrs. H. H. Kendall, chairman, will have charge of the program and there will be an address by Rev. Samuel Crothers of Cambridge.

The Newton Ladies Home Circle will hold their fourth annual food sale in the Unitarian church, West Newton, on Saturday, February fourth from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The Newton Equal Suffrage League will hold a whist at the home of Mrs. E. N. L. Walton, 68 Chestnut street, West Newton Tuesday Feb 7th at 2:30 o'clock.

A memorial service for the late ex-Gov. William Claflin will be held at the Methodist church, Newtonville, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Ex-President William F. Warren of Boston University will make an address and tributes will be read from letters written by life-long friends. The musical program will be in charge of Mr. Ray Finel.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all news-stands in the Newton, and at the South Union Station, Boston.

All communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

Notices of local entertainments
to which admission is charged must be paid for at regular rates, 25 cents per line in the reading matter, or $1.00 per inch in the advertising columns.

Suburbanites as a rule are long suffering in matters of transportation
but the experiences of the past few weeks are really beyond endurance.
The Boston Terminal Company, which controls the yard to the South Station is the party at fault, and it is high time that its officials found some remedy for the constant interference with its switch system by every snow fall.
Exasperating delays have been frequent of late on account of the failure of switches to work and while there is every disposition to grant reasonable opportunity to meet climatic conditions, it is apparent that radical measures are needed to prevent delays
in the future.

Placing a roof over the portion of the yard at the switches has been one suggestion which is possibly worth working out, and a system of heating might also be adopted.

In any case, the conditions are so bad that some steps should be taken to solve the problem.

At a meeting Wednesday evening in the M. E. church, a Men's Club was organized with Mr. George M.
Weed as President, Mr. D. Fletcher
Barber as Vice President and Mr. G.
A. Aston as Secy-Treasurer. About fifty gentlemen were present and after a supper had been served, listened to remarks on The Civil Administration of Newton, by Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor, Chas. W. Ross, Street
Commissioner, Irving T. Farnham, City Engineer and a representative of Col. I. F. Kingsbury, City Clerk.
These gentlemen gave brief descriptions of the work done in their several departments and answered the many questions which were asked. Mr.
Hugh Campbell favored the audience with a song and the evening closed with brief suggestions from Rev. R.
T. Fawcett and Rev. A. L. Squier
as to the advisability of enlarging the scope of the club to include the Methodist denomination of the entire city.

Attention is invited to the extraorinary inducements we are offering for new subscriptions. The free trips to Washington, Gettysburg and other places are under excellent auspices,
and should receive a large patronage.
The early canvassers will obtain the best results and there are at least one thousand homes in this city in which the Graphic should be a welcome guest. Just try your neighborhood and see how easy it will be to get the necessary number to qualify for one of these trips.

The agitation for consolidation of the Newton postal service with that of Boston has been renewed. It is only fair to say that this change, on the present number of deliveries will increase the postal expenses of the city
some $2400 annually, while if another delivery is added, the extra expense will reach $6000. Under these circumstances, it is doubtful if the Washington authorities will favor the project.

The announcement of another gift of a new building to the Newton Hospital taken in connection with the recent gift of the Ellison Home by Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Day, indicates that the Hospital continues to make friends who have the power and the willingness to not only maintain its present efficiency but to enlarge its scope.

Political Notes.

The Republican Club of Ward Seven recently elected the following officers for 1905: president, Arthur W. Blakemore; vice president, Chauncey B.
Allen; secy-treas, Wm. F. Garcelon;
executive committee, the above officers
and Benjamin S. Rich, Allan C.
Emery, Henry W. Jarvis and Vernon
H. Swett.

Y. M. C. A.

Gentlemen's night was a big success
last Monday. As the guests arrived the Association orchestra played in the parlor; then Mr. Pitt Parker, the crayon artist gave an interesting program. The audience then went to the gymnasium, where director La Rose had arranged an attractive list of athletic events, consisting of basket and volley ball, barrel boxing, blindman's buff and a relay race.

Blucher and His Pipe.

Cromwell's Ironsides were smokers, and large numbers of pipes have been dug up from the sites of William III's camps. The wars of the eighteenth century found tobacco esteemed in all armies, and Wellington was the only general who objected to it. Even he was moved to admiration by the unconscious heroism of Blucher's pipe servant at Waterloo. Everywhere he went Blucher was attended by Christian Henneman, a Hussar, carrying clay pipes and tobacco for the general's refreshment. As his share of the fight began at Waterloo, Blucher sat his charger gravely pulling away. He had reached out his hand to take a refilled pipe when a cannon ball plowed up the ground before him. He exclaimed: "Get a fresh pipe for me!
I'm going to drive those rascally Frenchmen back!" It was evening before he returned, riding with Wellinton over the stricken field. Where he had left him Blucher found Henneman, wounded and bleeding, but with the pipe ready according to orders.
"You have been admiring my highlanders," said Wellington, "but what shall I say of this brave man?" "Well, your highlanders had no tobacco to inspire them," replied Blucher.—London Standard.

The Moon's Mission.

Some partisans of final causes have imagined that the moon was given to the earth to afford it light during the night, but in this case nature would not have attained the end proposed,
since we are often deprived at the same time of the light of both sun and moon. To have accomplished this end it would have been sufficient to have placed the moon at first in opposition to the sun and in the plane of the elliptic at a distance from the earth equal to the one hundredth part of the distance of the earth from the sun and to have impressed on the earth and moon parallel velocities proportional to their distances from the sun. In this case the moon, being constantly in opposition to the sun, would have described round it an ellipse similar to that of the earth. These two bodies would then constantly succeed each other, and, as at this distance the moon could not be eclipsed, its light would always replace that of the sun.—Laplace.

The Depraved Camel.

"Any ordinary horse on the street might well feel insulted at being named in the same class as a domestic animal with that four legged impassive vehicle, the camel," writes a traveler.
"Fidelity in a camel does not exist. An artist might as well depict a devoted crocodile fondling a lost child as a faithful dromedary standing over the corpse of its fallen master. Lockwood Kipling touched the core of the matter
when he avowed that a man might as reasonably lavish his affection on a baggage wagon. In short, the camel is an unredeemed boor, more brutish than a mule, less sensible of endurance than even of extremes of temperature and weather. Its virtues are of the body, its great endurance compensating for a mental and moral depravity that must be labeled nothing short of amazing."

Trout That Are Not Trout.

Dr. Theodore Gill of the Smithsonian Institution in calling attention to the misnaming of our native fish by early settlers instanced among others the trout. The pilgrims, finding in New England streams a fish that resembled them of the trout of England, gave it
the same name, although Isaac Walton would have told them that it was not a trout, but a char. In Maine landlocked salmon and in certain lakes another salmonid fish were also called trout. In the south the name trout was given to black bass. In California
a peculiar fish was named trout, apparently for no other reason than its possession of spots. The Gila river trout is not a trout at all.

Conspirators.

It will surprise many to know that Washington Irving was a confessed orchard thief. Once, while picking up an apple in his own orchard, he was accosted by an urchin of the neighborhood, who, not recognizing him as the proprietor, offered to show him a tree
where he could get some better apples
than those.

"But," said the boy, "we must not let the old man see us."
"I went with him," said Irving, "and we stole about a dozen or two of my own apples and then went shure."

Thank You.

"Thanks" is a miserable expression commonly used by persons who have not had the advantages of good breeding. Every favor received and civility shown deserves to be recognized, and the smallest acknowledgment the recipient can make is to say or write,
"Thank you." The vulgarity of
"Thanks" is on a par with the postal card correspondence.

Mistakes.

When you make a mistake, don't look back at it long. Take the reason of the thing into your own mind and then look forward. Mistakes are lessons of wisdom. The past cannot be changed.
The future is yet in your power.—Hugh White.

Kind Words.

A word of kindness is seldom spoken in vain, while witty sayings are as easily lost as the pearls slipping from a broken stream.—Prentice.

A Forecast.

She—Dearest, we'll have a lot to contend with when we are married. He (absently)—Yes; we'll have each other.
—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

He alone has energy who cannot be deprived of it.—Lavater.

Too Advanced For Him.

In Chicago there is a principal of one of the public schools who in his college days was considered something of a "shark" at Latin and at many other studies besides. What he did not know about physiology was hardly worth knowing. He was a "grind" and a scholarship man.

His little girl, aged six, is now a pupil at the experimental school at the university, where she learns many things out of the order of public school education. Recently she fell and hurt herself. Her father found her crying.
"What's the matter, Noreen?" he asked.

"I fell and bumped my patella," she replied. Remember this was in Chien-go, and not in Boston.
"Patna was sympathetic. "Poor little girl," he said, and proceeded with the best intentions to examine her elbow.
Noreen broke away in disgust.
"Huh," she snorted. "Haven't you never learned anything? I said my patella! That isn't my elbow. My elbow is my great sesamoid."
Papa went for a Latin dictionary.

The Benefit of Fairy Tales.

It is very reasonable to argue that no creation of human fancy could last as long as fairy tales have lasted through no knows how many hundreds and thousands of years unless it was very good.
For that which is not good and not sound must surely die, and only that which is good and sound shall last through the grinding of the ages.

So I believe that parents should fill their children's imaginations full of fairy tales if they would make those imaginations strong and healthy. As for that man or woman who has not these bright and joyous things of fancy flying like golden bees through the dim recesses of his memory, I can only say that I think his or her parents must have been neglectful of the earlier training of their child and that I am sorry for that poor soul who has lost
so much pleasure out of his life.—Howard Pyle in Book News.

As It Looked on the Map.

Of every hundred tourists who visit the Canary Islands quite seventy-five are British. Naturally, therefore, the natives of the Canary Islands take a great interest in everything which affects England. It is perhaps a pity that their general ignorance is not a little less appalling, but their very disregard for accuracy leads a certain
"clerk" to their conversation. A man in a barber's shop pointed to a dilapidated map of the world which was nailed to the wall, and putting his forefinger upon Spain, he exclaimed: "If war breaks out, Spain must retake Gibraltar. Have no fear. The English ships may come down to us because it is all downhill, but after we have captured them they will not find it so easy to get back to England, because it is all uphill."

Deceptions of Wild Birds.

Falcons—hawks, the largest species—
can compress their features and look very slim if they think it necessary to do so. As to the owls, they can lump up into any position they think most suitable. It is useless to look for these self preserving traits in any of the family kept in zoological collections, for the birds are so accustomed to see large numbers of people passing and repassing or standing in front of them that they treat the whole matter with perfect indifference. They know that at a certain time their food will be brought to them and that they are otherwise perfectly safe. Then the raptors in a wild state have a bloom on their plumage like the bloom on a bunch of grapes, which is not often seen when in captivity.

A Compromise.

In the nursery the letter of the law
occasionally leaves something to be desired, according to the London Chronicle. A very little lady had been told that it was rude to contradict. She schooled herself not to contradict with great conscientiousness, but one day a half jesting accusation made against her by some unsuspecting member of the grownup part of the house nearly made her fall from a state of grace.
Luckily her imagination supplied her with a compromise. In a voice trembling with tears and passion she gasped
out, "I—I really think you are mistaken—you—you beast!"

Look of Order.

It is astonishing how all of us are generally cumbered up with the thousand and one hindrances and duties which are not such, but which nevertheless wind us about with their spider threads and fetter the movement of our wings. It is the lack of order which makes us slaves. The confusion of today discounts the freedom of tomorrow.

When He Might Call.

"I should like to know when you are going to pay that bill. I can't come here every day in the week."
"What day would suit you best?"
"Saturday."
"Very well, then, you can call every Saturday."—Petit Parisien.

The Pleasant Smile.

It is a grand gift to be able to smile
as the pleasant man or woman smiles.
It is not the stereotyped "duty smile"
of society; it is not the patronizing smile of careless tolerance nor the painful smile of bored politeness.

The Last Recourse.

"No work," said the man gloomily,
"and not a thing in the house to eat.
What shall we do?"
"There is nothing for us to do," replied his wife, "but to take in boarders."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The brightest blaze of intelligence is of incalculable less value than the smallest spark of charity.—Nevins.

Correspondence.

Editor of the Graphic:

A treat is in store for Newton people. In a few weeks, probably during April, some of the Appalachian Americans, mountain students of the Lincoln Memorial University of Cumberland Gap, Tennessee, are coming north to have a debate with some of the Newton High School boys.

Edgar O. Achorn, a Boston lawyer, resident of Newton Highlands, and one of the directors of the University is arranging this entertainment hoping thereby to raise money to materially aid the noble work being done in the name of our honored Abraham Lincoln.

Maj. Gen. O. O. Howard started this vast educational work and now gives most of his time to furthering
it. He feels that Lincoln's last words to him to "remember the people of Cumberland Gap and East Tennessee who were ever loyal to the Union" were a direct trust, over which he must be faithful.

It was my pleasure and privilege
last May, with a party of friends, to attend the Commencement exercises
at Lincoln Memorial University. During three days' stay, there was ample opportunity to see the work being done by a well equipped school having normal, academic and industrial departments. The school has a farm of 580 acres, 300 acres of which are under cultivation. They have farm buildings, saw and planing mills, besides students' dormitories with class rooms, chapel and a hospital with a fine corps of instructors. These with a fine corps of instructors and the natural advantages of pure air and water, rich soil and magnificent scenery furnish ideal conditions for the development of good citizens.
Our party was in no way disappointed in the country, the people, or in the work of Lincoln Memorial University.

We found the mountain youth exceedingly wide-awake, intelligent, and friendly. To us, the most interesting feature of the commencement was an extemporaneous debate on the subject
"What four things are most essential to a man for success in life." Each young man in the contest talked clearly and forcefully on this theme which was not known to him until he stood before the large audience.

The coming debate between the youth of the Cumberland Mts. and our own High School boys will be awaited with keen sympathetic interest. Members of the patriotic societies in Newton, of the Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., of the Newtowne Chapter, S. A. R., and the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. will be glad to aid the noble enterprise but all good citizens should endeavor to make this friendly contest a success, one long to be remembered by our southern visitors and by our own people.

Susan A. Whiting.

ANOTHER GIFT FOR NEWTON HOSPITAL.

New Maternity Ward Announced
at Annual Meeting of Aid Association.

The gift of a new maternity ward to contain about 25 beds was the welcome feature of the annual meeting of the Hospital Aid Association of the Newton Hospital, last Monday afternoon at the Nurses Home.

This gift from a donor whose name is withheld, in connection with the new Ellison Home donated a few weeks ago by Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Day will give the Newton Hospital most excellent equipment for its work.

The meeting of the aid association, an organization which since its formation has been of great assistance to the institution from which it takes its name, was a most enthusiastic one. Mrs. N. Emmons Paine, the president, presided, and the reports read showed the association to be in excellent condition.

Following the election of officers and close of the business session, there were addresses by Miss Mary M. Riddle, the matron of the hospital and the Hon. J. R. Leeson, president of its board of trustees.

Miss Riddle spoke very strongly on the need of a new and larger kitchen for the institution, declaring it was impossible to supply the needs of the patients with the present equipment. She also urged the establishment of a diet kitchen in which special food for patients whose condition demanded a particular kind of diet, should be prepared. It was suggested by her that a domestic service building, containing a large and properly equipped kitchen, storage rooms, etc. if constructed in the near future, would be of the greatest value to the hospital and would greatly increase its present facilities. "So crowded is our small kitchen," she said, "that at present we have not even standing room."

In his remarks, the Hon. J. R. Leeson spoke of the assistance given to the trustees and others in connection with the institution by the aid association, and expressed the thanks of the board in terms of warm appreciation. In connection with his announcement of the prospective gift of a maternity ward, he stated that it was to contain about 25 beds, and that the care and treatment received

there would be far ahead of that received by patients at their own homes. In regard to the new Ellison Home, which is to be devoted to the use of the hospital nurses, he said there would be room for about 40 nurses, and that it was to have a large lecture hall.

The necessity of a domestic building was also touched upon. At the close of the meeting a reception was given Miss Riddle, she being assisted in receiving by Mrs. Paine and a number of physicians, who acted as ushers. Refreshments were served during the afternoon in the hospital parlor, the committee in charge being Mrs. C. S. Dennison, Mrs. E. W. Converse, Mrs. W. H. Lucas and Mrs. C. H. Ames. The tea tables were presided over by Mrs. J. T. Lodge and Mrs. W. J. Follett.

The following officers for 1905 were elected: President, Mrs. N. Emmons Paine; vice president, Mrs. Howard P. Bellows; secretary, Mrs. L. R. Speare; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Gould; auditor, Mrs. F. A. Day; directors, Mesdames F. E. Anderson, F. W. Barney, C. H. Buswell, W. M. Byers, H. H. Carter, C. P. Darling, A. B. Cobb, W. R. Diamond, S. L. Eaton, W. J. Follett, E. W. Gay, J. A. Gould, C. P. B. Huff, G. D. Byfield, C. A. Davenport, W. O. Hunt, H. Rollins, A. F. Bemis, M. E. Kimball, W. R. King and Miss Edith O'Orville. To the list of directors it was voted to add the names of the wives of the clergymen of Newton.

The characters included "a collection of curios, Historical, Metaphorical and Allegorical" with Mrs. Lulu Upham as Mrs. Jarley, Mrs. F. F. Brezner as Little Nell and Mr. William Willard as John. The cast of characters was an excellent one and performed so well that it would be hard to say which was the best.

The choir will sing three times, one selection being a contralto solo by one of the boys. The service will close with an organ recital of three selections.

Miss Maud Summers then lectured upon "Handicraft and Life" illustrating her talk with examples of beautiful and artistic weaving from disciples of Art and Craft. Handicraft was defined as "the informed spirit within us, outward form and expression" by the work of the hand. "The implement of the spirit." The meaning of all fine arts is to give pleasure. The greater our inner consciousness of beauty, the more perfect our expression or expansion of that inner spirit, the greater pleasure are we able to give. More and more should coming generations be taught to express the college course for girl or boy is but half the circle of education. A goodly amount of time should be allowed for applied science.

Tea Houses in Japan.

In Japan nourishment is to be obtained by the traveler chiefly at the picturesque and omnipresent tea houses scattered all over Japan. When tourists stop at one of these places the "runners," who carry the Jirikishas, bathe their own feet and wash their mouths with cold water, after which they are served with their meals on the benches outside the tea houses. Their meal, which they eat with avidity, consists of salt fish, rice, pickles and a soup made of almost everything odious. After they have eaten they will smoke tiny pipes, with only three whiffs for each filling. Next comes the delicious nectar, world famed, and of this "cup which cheers, but not inebriates," foreigners also are always glad to partake. It is tea (cha) and when brewed by the Japanese is perfection. A pretty tea house girl presents it on a lacquer tray, bringing with it a china or bamboo charcoal holder and ash pot. —What to Eat.

The Story of a Famous Phrase.

All the world knows the remark of the governor of North Carolina to the governor of South Carolina. "It's a long time between drinks." The true history of this famous anecdote was told by a South Carolinian. It appears that the phrase was first heard at a political dinner when the governors of both North and South Carolina were present. The first governor had delivered a fiery political speech. The situation was intense when the turn came for the governor of South Carolina to speak. It seemed that any word the governor might say would complicate the situation. Even should he keep silent his opinion would seem clear. It was at this critical moment that the governor of the other Carolina rose and, inspired by a stroke of genius, remarked, "It's a long time between drinks." The absolutely noncommittal remark saved the situation.

Berlin a Fairy City.

Berlin is at its best at night. It has discovered the secret of electric lighting, and when people step out from their offices and shops at 8 and 9 o'clock at night it is into an enchanted city. The solid palaces, the monstrous statues, the enormous houses and wide spaces of the long and stately streets are then soft and gracious with a fairy radiance. It is a city not only of prosperity, but of pure delight. The heaviness of the buildings and the rigidity of their lines are blurred and softened. In this clear northern air the million lamps blazing from the walls of houses, shining across the interminable streets and glowing in a straight line down the whispering avenues, have something of the magic gentleness and sensuous inspiration of an Arabian story. You begin to think Berlin is the greatest city in the world.

Mixed Types.

Some years ago the editor of a down east newspaper undertook to compliment an eminent citizen as "a noble old burglar, proudly loving his native state," but the neatly turned compliment came from the composer's hands "a noble old burglar, prowling round in a naked state." This was as perverse and shocking as the blunder in the message Ernest Reuter had occasioned to telegraph across the English channel on the subject of a proposed lecture by him in Westminster abbey. The subject as written by him was "The Influence of Rome on the Formation of Christianity." It was announced in England as "The Influence of Run on the Digestion of Humanity!" —Saturday Evening Post.

Dancing Birds.

Sailors visiting the island of Laysan, in the Hawaiian group, are greatly amused by the curious antics of the Laysan albatross, or gony. These birds sometimes perform in pairs a kind of dance, or, as the sailors call it, "eakewalk." Two albatrosses approach each other, nodding and making profound bows, cross their bills, practice snapping and growling sounds, rise on their toes, puff out their breasts and finally part with more nodding and bowing, only to come together again and repeat the performance. Occasionally three engage at once in this singular amusement.

The Preacher's Closing Word.

The members of the Rev. Dr. Fourthly's congregation settled themselves peacefully in their seats. He had just said, "One word more, and I have done." The doctor looked keenly at them over his glasses for a moment. Then he closed the book in front of him. "Amen!" he said. —Chicago Tribune.

The Reason For It.

She—No, Mrs. Gayley is not popular. The moment she entered the room where the sewing circle was assembled there was a painful silence everywhere. He—I see. A silence is so particularly painful to women that the person responsible for such a condition must of necessity be unpopular.

Knew Her Mamma.

Policeman—Well, my little dear, if you can't tell me your mother's name or where she lives, how are we to find her? Little Girl said while out shopping "Jes' put me in a shop window, an' mamma'll be sure to see me."

Adrift on the Sea.

"Adrift on the sea" is an Indian word meaning "wood enters" and was a term applied in derision to a defeated Indian tribe driven to the mountains by the Iroquois and forced to live there on bark and berries.

He only is advancing in life whose heart is getting softer, whose blood warmer, whose brain quicker, whose spirit is entering into living peace.—Ruskin.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NEWTON HOSPITAL.

Mr. Geo. S. Bullens Resigns the Treasurership After Long and Faithful Service.

The annual meeting of the Newton Hospital Corporation was held Monday afternoon at the Nurses' Home at 3:20 p. m.

President Leeson was in the chair and Messdames Haskell, Paine, Ames, Saltonstall, Miss Lovett, Messrs. Day, Bray, Bullens, Tyler, Travelli, Pulsifer, Morton, Farley, Dennison, Bothfeld, Early, Hutchinson, and Drs. Hunt, May, Curtis, Keith and Porter were present.

Dr. Hunt for the Executive Committee said there were 927 patients admitted during 1904 an increase of 12 per cent. The cost per week had been reduced to $13.51 for ordinary patients and $16 for contagious cases. He referred to the proposed increase in the Nurse's Home and said that a new kitchen and accessories were absolutely needed as it would be impossible to cook for 30 or 40 more nurses with the present facilities. A new dynamo and an increase to the heating plant are also greatly needed.

Mr. Bullens, the treasurer submitted his annual report from which it appeared that the Hospital plant was valued at $137,492 with an endowment fund of $81,294 and an emergency fund of $10,000. The total receipts last year were $56,877.37 and the expenses were $53,976.

The auditors reported the Treasurer's books as correct, and the Finance Committee by Mr. Day reported all investments in standard securities.

Dr. May for the Training School made an interesting report saying that 9 pupils had graduated during 1904, and there were 38 enrolled on Jan. 1, '05. There had been 272 applications, of which 31 had been accepted and 11 admitted. He urged the necessity of selecting only physically strong women for the work. The system of exchange with other Hospitals was inaugurated Nov. 1, and had not been tried long enough to prove its value. The School had found it impossible to supply the demand from citizens for pupil nurses but the proposed enlargement will not only remove this difficulty but will render possible the proposed union of the School and the District Nursing Assn.

The nominating committee by Mr. Hutchinson then submitted a list of officers for 1905 and they were unanimously elected as follows:

Trustees: Messdames C. H. Ames, M. L. Bacon, A. B. Cobb, W. H. Coolidge, W. H. Gould, E. B. Haskell, C. W. Leonard, J. T. Lodge, E. H. Mason, G. S. Mumford, G. S. Morse, J. H. Nichols, N. E. Paine, E. P. Saltonstall, F. W. Stearns, Miss Caroline A. Lovett, Hon. J. R. Leeson, Hon. H. E. Bothfeld, Messrs. G. S. Bullens, P. A. Day, C. S. Dennison, Bernard Early, A. L. Edmunds, W. T. Farley, Geo. Hutchinson, C. E. Kelsey, Marcus Morton, L. G. Pratt, A. S. Pratt, C. I. Travelli, W. P. Tyler Rev. G. W. Shinn D. D., Drs. W. O. Hunt, F. S. Keith, G. E. May, F. E. Porter, Clerk, W. Claxton Bray; Treasurer; George Royal Pulsifer.

Mr. Hutchinson then offered the following memorial to the retiring Treasurer, and it was unanimously adopted.

Mr. George S. Bullens, who has been the Treasurer of the Newton Hospital Corporation nearly a quarter of a century, has requested that he be relieved of the onerous duties involved in the office. The Board of Trustees in accepting the resignation of Mr. Bullens place on record its deep sense of appreciation of the long continued, efficient and most valuable service thus rendered to the Hospital. Few are aware of the extent of the clerical work required of the Treasurer. Mr. Bullens has faithfully performed all such functions, keeping the financial records of the Corporation with faultless neatness and absolute exactitude. Besides all this, he has exercised good judgment and wise foresight in the larger financial interests and responsibilities of the Hospital. His unflinching care and loyal support of the Hospital from the earliest days of its small beginnings, without break or cessation, form a record of conscientious devotion to high trusts of incalculable value to the institution.

Mr. Bullens responded orally. Mr. Pulsifer then offered this acknowledgment of the gift of "Ellison Hall" which was also adopted unanimously.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Day have offered to construct a brick building on land of this corporation in size sufficient to accommodate as many nurses as the present Nurses' Home. They further offer to furnish the building when completed, and their offers have been accepted. They desire that the name "Ellison" be given the building in memory of the late Hon. William P. Ellison, a former

The promotion of Lieutenant Mitchell to the office of Chief of Police seems to have struck the public most favorably. The appointment was not sought, and is a case of the office seeking the man, something unique in these days of self-seeking. Moreover, the action of the new chief in accepting the unwelcome task of reorganization with its consequent heart burnings, after the mayor had expressed his readiness to do this work prior to an appointment as Chief, has created a strong sentiment in favor of the Mayor's appointee.

The Chief has an arduous task in adjusting the internal dissensions of the department which have made Newton a byword in this section of the state, but he has the hearty support of every good citizen in the work as every tax-payer desires better service from the investment of the city in this department.

Memorial Service.

Rev A. L. Squier, pastor of the Newtonville Methodist church arranged for and directed the impressive memorial service for the late Ex-Gov. Claflin which was held last Sunday afternoon at the Newtonville Methodist church. The main auditorium was well filled with relatives and friends the latter representing official and business circles in which Mr. Claflin was formerly actively connected. Mr. Squier after delivering a brief but very appropriate tribute, introduced Dr. W. F. Warren, formerly president of Boston University, who pronounced the eulogy. Dr. Warren was comprehensive, discriminating and tender, expressing himself in characteristically charming literary and poetical phrase. His reference, not only to Mr. Claflin but to his noble wife and their distinguished guests, who made the "Old Elms" historic, were very felicitous. Mr. Squier then read brief tributes from William Endicott and Rev. Drs. Frederic Woods, Charles Parkhurst, J. M. Buckley, Senator Dean of Malden, Ex Gov. Boutwell and Rev. W. J. Thompson of Brooklyn a former pastor. The musical program, under the direction of Mr. Ray Finel consisted of a solo by Mr. Finel and the singing of "Abide With Me" by the church choir.

NEW CHIEF.

Lieutenant Frederic M. Mitchell is Appointed.An Appointment That Meets With General Approval.

FREDERIC M. MITCHELL.

The first step in the reorganization of the police department, made necessary by the resignation of Ex-Chief Tarbox, was the appointment of Frederic M. Mitchell as chief. Mayor Weed sent it to the Aldermen Monday night and his action was confirmed.

There are other changes to be made, the appointment of two lieutenants and as one of the three sergeants now performing duty is to be reduced another sergeant is to be appointed to the vacancy. There is much speculation as to the choice of the Mayor in the creation of new ranking officers. Some go so far as to name the lucky candidates. If it is true that Officer James J. Mullen is to be one lieutenant and that the other is to be either patrolman William P. Soule or patrolman Robert S. Harrison, it is no mere assumption to say that each is well fitted for the position. Experience, judgment, tact and courtesy are possessed by each man and in choosing any two of these three the Mayor cannot make a mistake.

In the matter of a new sergeant it is said that Officer Bartlett is to be returned to his former rank from which he was reduced and his friends will undoubtedly rejoice at his reinstatement.

As to the patrolmen, it is time that there is to be a "shake-up" as many call it. The Mayor and the new chief are not discussing their plans with any one, but it is safe to say that a redistribution of the routes is sure to come. People who know the internal workings of the department will appreciate this; others will be satisfied to learn that in every way fair treatment of regular and reserve men is to be a matter of the greatest importance. The new chief has no axe, either in his hand, or behind his back, and no heads will fall except for good and sufficient reasons.

Fred. M. Mitchell was born in Cambridge in 1862. His education was secured in the grammar and high schools of that city. As a young man he took much interest in military affairs. He became a member of Co. B, 5th Regt M. V. M. of Cambridge and remained in that organization six and on half years. The last two years of his service was as a commissioned officer, the youngest in the regiment.

Before his appointment to the Newton force he was a brakeman and a train baggage-master. He joined the force April 7, 1890. Four years afterward he was made a sergeant. When on Jan 12, 1898 the office of lieutenant was created he, with the present Capt. Ryan, was made a lieutenant. He resides with his wife and family on Washington st, near Beacon. He is a member of Waban lodge I. O. O. F. and of the Old Guard of Massachusetts. No man has a better knowledge of his men than the new chief. He has worked with them as a fellow patrolman, as a ranking officer and also as drillmaster. Being a keen observer and possessing wide opportunities to study departmental affairs he is admirably fitted for an executive. His experience on the street has taught him what police duty is among the people and his years of work at headquarters have given a complete grasp of departmental routine.

We learn that while Mayor Weed was willing to save the new chief the onus of the proposed reorganization by making the changes prior to his appointment Mr. Mitchell modestly said that if he was to fill the office he was willing to accept its full responsibilities.

Correspondence.

Feb 8, 1905.

Mr. Fred M. Mitchell,
Chief of Police of Newton.
Dear Sir: As Chief Templar of Loyalty Lodge of Good Templars, I wish to congratulate you for having received the appointment as Chief of Police of Newton. In so doing I not only express my personal feeling, and that of the members of Loyalty Lodge, but voice the sentiment of all interested in a good, clean administration of that most important department. We feel that, in the enforcement of the law very much depends upon the attitude of the chief executive, and we cannot doubt that the bold policy our worthy Mayor has pursued, properly backed up by a strict enforcement of the law will preserve the good name of our city and cleanse it very materially of whatever taint it now has as the result of the illegal sale of liquor.

Yours very truly
Wm. H. Rand.

At the Theatres

Coming Attractions

Keith's Theatre—The vaudeville show at Keith's for the week of Feb. 13 promises to be one of the strongest of the winter. Among the celebrities announced to appear are the following: Julian Eltinge, who first acquired histrionic fame as a member of the Cadets theatricals; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, in a stirring dramatic playlet, "The Yellow Dragon," which is to be staged with special scenery and effects; Mme. Adelaide Herrmann and company, introducing new and original illusions, Ten Brookes and Lambert, in a musical comedy specialty; Herr Troba, a juggler of marvelous skill and strength; Ernest Hogan, the most noted of all the "real coon" singers; Adeline Roattino, a vocalist well known in Boston and Clara Stevens, a graceful international dancer, and Rice and Prevost, the greatest acrobatic comedy team at present appearing in vaudeville. The usual complete change of motion pictures will be made.

Tremont Theatre—Lew Dockstader's large minstrel company, which will appear at the Tremont Theatre for two weeks, beginning Monday, Feb. 13, is one of the largest and most expensive organizations of the kind ever gathered together in the history of minstrelsy. The contrast is striking between the oldtime minstrel show, whose company numbered from six to ten men, and this organization, with its two sixty-foot baggage cars crowded with scenery and mechanical and electrical effects, its three full quartets and its ten solo singers, its twenty-piece orchestra and its dozen comedians, who are not only genuinely funny, but who portray the real darbies, of course, Lew Dockstader is the star of his company, as he is recognized as filling a unique position in minstrelsy there being no one who even approaches him in magnetism, in comedy or reputation. In addition to really artistic setting for the first part, and in this particular, surpassing even the more pretentious of his rivals in the business, he has made his second part largely a series of beautiful and sumptuous stage pictures which are appropriate to the various musical or comedy features presented.

THE DANCING YANKS.

In Lew Dockstader's Great Minstrels at the Tremont Theatre, week commencing Feb. 13.

Boston Theatre—The cosmopolitan character of that famous rural drama of New England life, "Quincy Adams Sawyer," which returns to the Boston Theatre for a two weeks engagement commencing Feb. 20, is well demonstrated since its Boston engagement in September for the same big company and production has been seen for the first time in the principal cities of the South. It scored the same sort of success there that it has in the North. If ever there was a comedy which depicted life, Yankee life, expounded Yankee ways and fairly breathed Yankee atmosphere, that play is "Quincy Adams Sawyer." It is a tribute to its excellence that a play of this kind should be received so warmly by the theatregoers of the South on its first presentation there. On Wednesday of the second week, March 1, the afternoon and evening performances will be celebrated by the presentation of souvenirs. These souvenirs will be the famous game "Stage." During the first week of the engagement there will be a holiday matinee on Washington's Birthday.

Grand Opera House—"Escaped from the Harem" is the title of the latest melodrama from the prolific pen of Charles A. Taylor, an author who has to his credit more melodramatic successes than any other American dramatist. In his latest attempt of "Escaped from the Harem" which will be seen at the Boston Grand Opera House next week, he has founded the story upon facts personally witnessed by an American traveler in Persia, which has been elaborated upon by the author to such an extent that it makes a story filled with heart interest, sensation, and bright comedy. The stage settings are exceptionally fine and the company is out of the ordinary. Matinees will be given as usual on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Empire Theatre—The management of the Boston Music Hall announce that on and after Saturday, Feb. 11, that name will be relegated to history and that of Empire Theatre substituted. This change of name will effect in no way the policy of the house, which has been and will continue to be that of the presentation of all star vaudeville. On the same date Feb. 11, the magnificent new Washington street entrance, constructed at an expense of many thousands of dollars, and the handsome theatre entrance in Boston will be opened to patrons. To celebrate fittingly this doubly important event in Boston theatrical annals, an exceptionally attractive and costly vaudeville show will be offered.

Going To Lynn.

Rev. George R. Grose, for five years the pastor of the Newton Methodist church has received several invitations from other churches, and is favorably inclined towards accepting the unanimous invitation from the First Church of Lynn, which is one of the oldest and strongest Methodist churches in New England, where he will succeed Rev. R. L. Green D.D. There is a general regret in Newton that Mr. Grose has decided to sever his connection with this church where his pastorate has been so satisfactory. Rev. Dr. George S. Butters, formerly of Newtonville, and now in charge of St. Mark's church, Brookline has accepted a call to the Newton church. These changes will take place after the April conference.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

Celebrated by Chas. Ward Post G. A. R. with Speeches by General Miles, Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson and others.—Large Attendance.

Patriotism, love of country, pride in her great achievements and honor and veneration of the name of Lincoln were the sentiments expressed in Temple hall, Newtonville, last Saturday evening. The hall was beautifully decorated with the Stars and Stripes and vari-colored bunting while outside the glare of red fire lightened up the banks of snow, the bare trees, buildings and the faces of an expectant crowd. The train drew into the station and with a cheer, as only a Yankee can give, the members of Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R., passed through the long lines of eager faces escorting in their midst their honored guest, the hero of many a battle and the former head of the United States Army, Lieut General Nelson A. Miles.

The delegation from the post went to the Newton Club house where they entertained at dinner Lieut General Miles, Adj. General John E. Gilman of the department of Massachusetts, G. A. R., Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson pastor of Channing church, Mayor Weed and others.

The occasion was a patriotic entertainment in honor of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln given by the post and complementary to the Newton High School Battalion. Lieut General Miles and Commander William T. Shepherd occupied seats in the centre of the platform and other notables near them were adjutant General John E. Gilman, Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson, both to be speakers, Mayor Weed, Aldermen Hunt, Eusign, Brown, Cabot, Weston and Doherty, Senior Vice Commander Henry Haynie, Col. E. H. Haskell, Past Department Commander Wetherbee, Captain E. M. Springer and Col. Homer B. Sprague. Among the audience which filled the hall to overflowing were members of Charles Ward Post, the Newton High School Battalion, Company C, 5th Regiment, M. V. M., and the Sons and Daughters of Veterans. The program consisted of patriotic recitations by Mrs. Elizabeth J. Joyce, vocal solos by Miss Mary A. Gates with Miss Martha R. Carey as piano soloist and accompanist. Commander Shepherd presided and in a few appropriate sentences introduced the speakers who paid glowing tributes to the memory of Lincoln as a man, a citizen and as president, their words spoken memories of the long distant past brought to life, as they gazed at the handsome framed photograph of the martyred president which occupied a conspicuous place on the platform. Adj Gen Gilman, the first speaker, dwelt at some length on the experiences of the Union soldier in camp, hospital and in prison, spoke of the causes which led up to the war and of the desire of the north to clean the blot of slavery from the flag, the emblem of liberty.

Gen. Miles was received with great enthusiasm. He spoke of the day as one celebrated by city, state and nation and told in a graphic way, of the humble birth and early life of Lincoln, who became great intellectually, and as a lawyer, from observation and the reading of books. Integrity of purpose was a strong characteristic of "Honest Old Abe," and he showed his simplicity and great heart when he said before his second inauguration, "The north and south must be friends and the cord of affection must not be broken." Gen. Miles closed his address with the following words most impressively spoken: "Lincoln was the most eminent patriot, citizen, statesman, chief magistrate and man who ever walked the earth. We are indeed fortunate to have lived in the age of Lincoln. There is not a boy in this assemblage tonight who has not surroundings far better than he, or advantages superior to those with which he was blessed. His patriotism, honesty and steadfastness of purpose can all be yours. I am not one of those who believe that the unexpected death of Lincoln was a blessing, that behind the hand of the assassin who struck him down was the hand of Providence. His death was a shock and a set back to our civilization, a blow to the moral force of the nation and a step backward. His life and achievements will always stand as object lessons to the youth of America."

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson, the last speaker, said that "Loyalty to God and native land was the highest type of loyalty." Previous to the war if a citizen was asked who was the proper man for President his reply would have been a man trained in diplomacy, in schools, in state and in society, characteristics the opposite of Lincoln; but the heart of the people was right and as it proved theirs was a wise choice. Washington and Lincoln, so far apart, were alike in one respect, they each were loyal to their highest ideals. Mr. Hudson also spoke words of appreciation of the brilliant record of Gen. Miles and of his work among the Indians better understood from a several years residence in the far west.

The meeting closed with the singing of America by the company. A short reception was held previous to the entertainment and at its close those who wished had an opportunity to meet Gen. Miles in G. A. R. hall.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT AT NEWTON HIGHLANDS

Mr. Joseph W. Crowell of Copley street, an expert automobilist, was the victim of a bad accident last Saturday about 11 a. m. in which he received severe cuts and bruises about the head and face, was rendered unconscious, his machine made a total wreck, and the front vestibule of the electric car with which he collided considerably damaged. It appears that Mr. Crowell was driving his Stanley runabout at a fair rate of speed towards Newton Highlands on the car tracks on Walnut street, when he met an electric car bound towards Newtonville in charge of Conductor Wheeler and Motorman Hendricks. In attempting to leave the car tracks the wheels slid on account of the ice and snow and although Mr. Crowell put on more steam to escape, he was unable to prevent a head on collision. He was carried to Green's drug store in an unconscious condition and attended by Drs. Withee and Guiler before being removed to the Newton Hospital. At present his condition is improving.

High School Notes

The teams which will represent the classes at the annual athletic meet on Feb. 18th are now complete. They are as follows: 1905—Whitaker, Johnson, Fearing and Myrick; 1906—Merriew, Salmon, Eaton and Pluta; 1907—Sladen, Moore, Gibson and Burrisou; 1908—Porter, Bowen, Forte and Ward.

The Senior Class Assembly will be held in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, on February 21st.

Zero weather and thereabouts calls for special consolation; gentlemen will find it in a Brunswick cigar. They come in seniors and juniors, 10 and 5 cent size. Bird the druggist, sells them.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL OF BARNARD MEMORIAL

The annual festival of the Barnard Memorial will be held on Wednesday February 22, in the main hall of the Mechanics' Building on Huntington avenue, and preparations have been made for a more elaborate entertainment than any heretofore held under the same auspices. There will be abundance of room, extra music, new costume dances and patriotic marches, and it is confidently hoped that an attendance at least double that ever gathered in Music Hall will be present. The great hall will easily accommodate 6,000 children and their friends. Special arrangements have been made for festive parties of children and young people. A good lunch at a reasonable price can be had in the building, and ample retiring rooms for private lunch and rest will be at the free disposal of all. There will be general dancing, free to all children, and novel and beautiful exhibition dances under the direction of Mrs. Lilla Viles Wyman. Reserved seats at a slight additional cost. This is a fine way to spend Washington's Birthday with your children.

City Hall Notes.

The death of ex-alderman L. G. Pratt leaves but three survivors of the first city government of 1874, they are ex-councilmen Gorham D. Gilman, Vernon E. Carpenter and John Ward. Although death has cut wide swaths in the ranks of the elected members of that government, both the City Clerk, Julius L. Clarke and the Clerk of the Common Council, Hosea Hyde are living at the present time.

Ernest H. Harvey, the draughtsman in the office of the City Engineer has been awarded the second prize of $1000 in books in the recent book contest of the Boston Herald. Mr. Harvey well sustained his reputation as a fine draughtsman in the elaborate manner in which his coupons were returned.

NEWTON HOME FOR AGED PEOPLE

The Annual Report of the Directors Shows Quite a Satisfactory Condition of Things.

The directors present as their report for the year 1964 the Matron's report which was presented to this Board as the report of the Executive Committee.

Another year has closed—making our fifth of earnest work together in this Home, and though it has brought much sorrow in its passing, it has also brought pleasure and happiness to us all.

I herewith submit my report for your approval and as I have done in the past, render to you a detailed account of the duties that devolve upon me as Matron.

We have much to be grateful for and although we have had more or less sickness all the time, especially through the winter and spring, the general health of the family is above the average, when we consider that several have passed four score years and nearly all three score and ten. We have had two deaths.

On the morning of April ninth, Miss Julia Bacon passed away, having been a resident of the Home four years and seven months. Her death was not unexpected as she had been slowly failing for more than a year. When the end came our responsibility ceased as her relatives took charge of the remains, she having made arrangements and provided for the funeral expenses before she entered the Home. Her life with us was very happy and she expressed herself as being truly grateful for all that was done for her.

Again on the morning of July 27th Miss Caroline Jellison passed away having been ill a little more than three weeks and suffering almost continually, but was very brave and uncomplaining and has left only kind and pleasant memories to those who cared for her. She had been a resident of the Home for a period of four years.

After the death of Miss Bacon, Mrs. Hodes was transferred to the Simpson room and in June, Miss Georgiana Greene became a resident of the Home and now occupies the Carter room, and the Metcalf room made vacant by the death of Miss Jellison is now occupied by Mr. William White who was admitted to the Home in August.

We now have our full number—fifteen inmates.

We are, as always before, indebted to Dr. C. Y. Wentworth and Dr. Charles A. Thompson for their cheerful response to our many calls for their services, and to Mr. Perrin Colburn whose very efficient professional work at the time of Miss Jellison's death was greatly appreciated by all whose duty it was to arrange for her burial.

Our fifth anniversary occurred on the 7th of May and was a happy event to record, as many kind friends responded to our invitation to be present and all the family enjoyed the afternoon with them.

Several gentlemen left liberal contributions of money to create the fund we so much desire for spending money and though we began the monthly payment of forty cents to each one, with only about enough to last six months, we have had a few additions from thoughtful friends and the promise of more, so we have been enabled to continue through the year. And when one of our number is taken away the amount is transferred to the inmate taking his or her place, and as only a very few are able to earn anything for themselves, and a number have no one to give them money, the disbursement of this fund given me by voluntary contributions of the friends of the Home is very gratifying.

Every member of the family was made happy at Christmas, and some had many gifts, and on Christmas Eve, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fanning gave us a supper and as all were able to join them at table, it was indeed a festive occasion.

My record books are complete for the year.

Record of Admissions.

Gifts with donors names.

Visitors. Receipts for salaries and wages.

Duplicate statements such as is rendered to the Treasurer monthly, and all receipted bills filed.

The Matron's petty account.

Inventory of furnishings for house and stable.

I have answered many letters from people who are seeking a Home either for themselves or some aged person, and sent our printed pamphlet to give them desired information. I have also acknowledged to the donor all gifts of whatever nature.

The monthly visitors have been very attentive and faithful and all enjoy them, as each one in their way bring much to break the monotony of our daily life.

In closing I thank you all for your kind advice and assistance, and I cannot refrain from mentioning the absent member of this committee, Mrs. J. C. Melvin whose prolonged journeying in foreign lands has taken from each one of the family so much of comfort and cheer and whose valuable advice and counsel at all time gave us strength and courage, and I only express the sentiment of each one of us, when I say that her absence the past year has been greatly regretted and her return will be an occasion of happy rejoicing.

Since the preparation of the foregoing report, has occurred the death of Mr. William White on January 25, 1965 after a short residence at the Home.

At the meeting of the directors held February 4, 1965, the resignation of Mrs. Evans, as Matron, to take effect at first convenience, was received, the resignation was accepted and it was voted that in consideration of her past services dating from the opening of the Home she be paid three months salary.

LETTER TO J. H. NICKERSON, WEST NEWTON.

Dear Sir: Devotee in worth $4 or $5 a gallon, put-on; how much is another point worth?

Depends on how many gallons you've got to put-on, to be equal to one of Devotee.

Mr. J. J. Hall, Sheffield, Pa. painted two houses one coat, five years ago, lead-and-oil, took 40 gallons.

Last summer bought 40 gallons Devotee for same houses had 10 gallons left.

Mr. N. Avery, Delhi, N. Y. owns two houses exactly alike; painted one with Devotee took 6 gallons. The other with some other took 12 gallons.

CHARITY WHIST AT ARMORY HALL

A pre-Lenten social event of no little importance is the Charity Whist and Social for the benefit of St. John's Industrial School, Newton Highlands, to be held in Armory Hall, Newton, on Friday evening February 24th. These parties held quarterly during the past few years have perhaps been more largely attended than any held by local societies. The Ladies Aid Society under whose direction these parties are held number amongst its members many prominent in charitable work in Newton. These ladies have been the means of interesting many in the Industrial School which directly benefits by the revenue derived from the parties.

Since the inception of the School, creed and race have not been considered and consequently the Aid Society feels at liberty to appeal to the public for cooperation. 138 boys are now in actual attendance in the School and with comparatively few exceptions they are entirely dependent upon the public. The School has neither endowment nor regular means of revenue save that derived from the little monthly paper printed by the boys of the Home.

Thus it may rightly be termed a charitable institution, sectarian in its control, (Rev. William H. McDonough being superintendent and Rev. James J. Redican resident superintendent), non-sectarian in its inmates.

Only recently two ladies representing a local Monday Afternoon Club called at the Institution seeking information concerning the scope of the School and were greatly surprised at the number of boys and the fact that they were nearly all dependant on the public for support.

For the purpose of assisting in this work of charity the Ladies Aid meets monthly and during the past year have realized over sixteen hundred dollars. Success has certainly crowned their laudable efforts and they earnestly hope that the public will assist in their work of charity.

This approaching whist party, February 24th, will be preceded by a concert by the Home Band numbering thirty-five pieces. Whist will begin promptly at half past eight and six suitable prizes will be awarded. Following whist there will be dancing, music for which will be furnished by a ladies orchestra.

WEST NEWTON EDUCATIONAL CLUB

The West Newton Women's Educational Club met in the Unitarian church parlors Friday afternoon, February 10, the President, Mrs. M. Theresa Rowe, in the chair. The music of the afternoon consisted of two piano selections by Mrs. Fuller. The speaker, Miss Dortha Stone Pinneo, provided by the Education Committee, Mrs. H. L. Roquemore, chairman, was then introduced by the President. Miss Pinneo prefaced her address by a few words of greeting from the Connecticut State Federation of Women's Clubs, of which she was recently secretary, and then briefly described the plan of the New York Free Lecture System, which has been carried out with such extraordinary success, an idea to supplement the school work of the city and to reach and interest a class which would otherwise do so little for their intellectual advancement. Miss Pinneo then gave her very graphic lecture on the life, public service, capture and execution of Capt Nathan Hale, one of the most noted officers in the American Revolutionary Army whose last words before execution, "I only regret that I have but one life to give for my country," are familiar to all students of American Revolutionary history. A social hour, during which the Hospitality Committee, under the competent supervision of the chairman, Mrs. Lowry, served tea, gave an opportunity for the members to meet the presidents and secretaries of several neighboring clubs who were guests of the afternoon and to bid farewell to the president of the club who is soon to leave on a trip through the western part of our country. The next regular meeting will be on Friday afternoon, February 24 when the Art and Literature Committee, Mrs. George Byfield, chairman, presents for speaker Mrs. Francis B. Horn-brook, of Newton, who will address the members on The Victorian Era. The Choral Class, under the direction of Miss Alice Morton, will sing "Peasants' Dance" by R. Kieserling Jr.

REV. S. W. EATON, D. D. DEAD.

Rev. S. W. Eaton, D. D., died Thursday of last week at Newton Highlands at the age of eighty-four. He was the father of Rev. James D. Eaton of Mexico, president E. D. Eaton of Beloit College, Dr. S. L. Eaton of Newton Highlands and Dr. Charles W. Eaton of Des Moines, Ia. He was for forty years pastor of a church at Roscoe, Ill. He served throughout the Civil War as chaplain of the Seventh Wisconsin Infantry, which was a part of the famous Wisconsin Iron Brigade.

The funeral was held at the residence of his son, 340 Lake avenue, at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, and the burial was at Lancaster, Wis.

While others prefer the beauties of nature and are impressed by the grandeur of rock ribbed mountains and charmed with the quiet beauty of peaceful valleys.

To all of these classes, the Graphic offers a magnificent opportunity to indulge their fancy, without cost and with the utmost of comfort.

A FREE TRIP TO GETTYSBURG.

HOW TO WIN THE FREE TRIPS.

The rules governing this offer are simple. Everyone desiring to win a trip should apply at the Graphic office, on Centre Place, Newton, for subscription blanks. For every blank returned with a year's subscription the person by whom it was secured will receive credit on the Graphic books and every assistance will be given those endeavoring to take advantage of this offer.

The subscriptions must be bona-fide new ones. Transfers from one member of a family to another, or from one member of a household to another cannot be allowed. Two subscriptions for six months each will count for one year. The population of Newton has increased and changed so that there is a field for new subscriptions, and with a persevering effort fifty may be gained in a short time but the earliest ones will find the richest harvest.

All these trips will be under the auspices of the well known Pierce Tourist Agency, which has a high reputation for looking after the comfort of its patrons, and for that careful attention to details, which makes travelling with them a pleasure and delight.

panied with the name of the writer, and

Senator Lodge undoubtedly correctly represents the sentiments of Massachusetts upon many measures at the national capital, but in his advocacy
of the whimsical rights and prerogatives
of the senate, we do not believe he is in accord with the general wish of his fellow citizens. While in the present issue with the president as to the treaty power of the Senate Mr.
Lodge is probably right it only emphasizes the extraordinary sense of importance which the Senate has of its privileges. One of the most unpopular rules it has, that of unlimited debate, with the power that it entails
of defeating much desired legislation has repeatedly been denounced by the press of both parties, and still remains as evidence that the Senate of the United States does not represent the people.

By the chorus of approval that goes up from certain newspapers
whenever Congressman McCall votes
in opposition to the rest of his Republican associates, it would almost appear that Mr. McCall was infallible in his political judgments. We doubt very much the theory that Mr. McCall is always in the right and that Mr.
Powers and the other members of the state delegation are always wrong
when opposed to each other. The law of averages works equally well in the realm of politics as in business, and it is a fair statement that the majority of our able Congressmen are more often right in their words and votes than the much advertised Mr. McCall.

The action of the Men's Club of the Newton M. E. Church in meeting the heads of the city departments in a social way is worthy of imitation by other organizations in the city. The information thus gained by the citizen, and the acquaintances made by the city officer, go far towards removing sources of irritation in city affairs. Our department heads are men of character and brains and can worthily maintain the high standard of our city in both deed and word.

KATAHDIN CLUB'S ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Katahdin Club was held Wednesday evening at the Woodland Park Hotel, Auburn-dale. Nearly 150 members and special guests were present and a social hour was first enjoyed in the parlors. Dinner was served in the large banquet hall, the tables being decorated with potted plants and cut flowers for the occasion. After the completion of an elaborate menu President Edwin B. Haskell called the company to order and Miss Emma E. Walker, the secretary, read her annual report. The election of officers followed resulting in President Haskell being chosen as head of the Club for another year. The other officers are: first vice president, S. D. Whittemore; second vice president, W. F. Garcelon; third vice president, Mrs. J. H. Pillsbury; secretary and treasurer, Miss Emma E. Walker; directors, Hon. A. R. Weed, Mrs. I. O. Palmer, Mrs. George B. King, President Haskell presided at the post-prandial exercises which were of both a humorous and serious vein. Mayor A. R. Weed spoke briefly of some newspaper experiences he had had and also of a recent visit made to Bangor, his birthplace. Mr. Augustus Jones, the next speaker, who had been assigned the topic "The Lawyers of Maine" gave interesting reminiscences of personal relations with Governor John A. Andrew, Governor John D. Long, John C. Freemont, James G. Blaine, Henry W. Paine, General Joshua L. Chamberlain and Henry W. Longfellow. Mr. Henry W. Dunn spoke most appreciatively of "The Mothers of Maine" and Rev. John Matteson gave an eloquent tribute to "The Wives of Maine." During the evening music was rendered by Handley's orchestra and the program was interspersed with vocal solos, which were finely rendered by Mrs. May Sleeper Ruggles and Miss Florence Dingley.

Clubs and Lodges

The Caleb Stark Chapter, Sons and Daughters of the Revolution will meet Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Charles E. Farrington on Hovey street.

An impromptu entertainment after the special communication of Dalhousie lodge on Wednesday evening in which Messrs H. N. Milliken, E. P. Jones, F. S. V. Sias, Hugh Campbell and J. W. Sargent of Candia, N. H. participated in songs and recitations was most enjoyable.

A past grand's regalia, collar and apron, by Nonantum Lodge, I. O. O. F. M. U., has been presented to Arthur E. Travis who has acted as noble grand of the lodge for some time.

The installation of the officers of Riverdale Lodge, N. E. O. P., of Auburndale, which was postponed owing to the illness of Deputy McBride will take place next Monday evening in Society hall.

At the annual convention of the Massachusetts Sons of Veterans held this week Past Commander James H. Wentworth was elected junior vice commander.

D. C. R. Richard Lyons installed the following officers of St. Bernard's Court M. C. O. F. in A. O. U. W. hall West Newton recently: C. R., John Barry; V. C. R., Daniel O'Connell; F. S., B. D. Farrell; R. S., Miss Margaret T. Cain; T. D., J. Kneeland; S. C., Miss Annie Haney; J. C., Miss Frances J. Kneeland; I. C., John Foley; O. S., John Murphy. A banquet with addresses by the grand officers followed.

The recently elected officers of Newton Lodge, 21, A. O. U. W., were installed Tuesday evening by District Deputy H. N. Bent and suite of So Framingham, as follows: Past Master Workman, C. M. Burns; Master Workman, G. O. Almy; Foreman, G. E. Davis; Overseer, H. Goddard; Guide, H. H. Hawkins; Inside Watchman, M. E. Haley; Outside Watchman, E. W. Paine; Recorder, A. W. B. Huff; Receiver, W. H. Pearson; Financier, R. C. Marsh. Visitors were present from Oak Lodge of Framingham, Watch City Lodge of Waltham, and other neighboring lodges. The installation exercises were followed by speaking and refreshments.

At the Churches.

Designs for the shield to be placed outside of St. John's church and for the sedilia within the chancel have been sent by the architect and are eminently satisfactory, harmonizing beautifully with the rest of the edifice.

At the Oak Hill chapel last Wednesday evening a large audience was present the occasion being a phonographic concert given by Mr. E. H. Corey.

At the North church Mr. Frank F. Davidson and Supt. McCall will speak Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in behalf of the Boston Rescue Mission.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton University will preach in the Memorial chapel of Wellesley College next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. This service is open to the public.

Mr. Archibald Forder, a missionary for thirteen years in Arabia will speak at Eliot church chapel next Friday evening at 7:45. On Monday evening the Newton C. E. Union held its annual meeting in the M. E. church, Newton Upper Falls. Mr. George H. Stevens presiding. In a brief address of welcome Mrs. Zeiss, president of the local society, spoke with great earnestness of the "Need and privilege of Christian Endeavor," making a strong plea for a deeper spiritual life through prayer and communion of the soul with God. Rev. A. S. Gilbert, of the Baptist church of Newton Upper Falls, conducted the devotional exercises and Miss Lucille Zeiss of Waban, rendered two selections most acceptably. The speaker of the evening, Rev. O. W. Scott, pastor of the church, took for his subject "The weight and worth of personality in Christian work." The business meeting followed these exercises, reports of the various officers and committees all indicated faithful work during the year. The following officers were elected: president, Frank A. Arnold, Auburndale; vice president, William E. Lowry, Newton; treasurer, Arthur W. Porter, Newton; secretary, Florence M. Marriott Highlandville. A delightful social hour was the closing feature of the evening.

The Unitarian Club was most fortunate in securing Mr. M. J. Murray of Boston to speak in the absence of Hon. Herbert Parker, occasioned by sickness, at its meeting Thursday evening. There was a large attendance and after the banquet, the members adjourned to the parlors where many of the fairer sex had gathered. President Fisher explained Mr. Parker's absence and presented Mayor Weed to introduce Mr. Murray. This was done by the mayor in a most happy manner, and Mr. Murray received a warm reception.

He spoke on Citizenship, reviewing the beginnings of the American citizenship, which he said had done more for humanity and for progress than any other citizenship on the earth. He spoke strongly on the price which the present generation should pay for its priceless heritage, urging greater attention to civic affairs, and stating that whatever of evil creeps into public affairs is because of the dereliction of duty by good men. The country does not need to fear organized selfishness near so much as the man who can find time two or three times a year to think of that flag which means so much to him.

Mr. Murray was given hearty applause as he concluded his address. Miss Benson sang two groups of songs most acceptably.

Long Life.
Weber sums the main points to be observed by those desirous of a long life as follows: First, moderation in eating, drinking and physical indulgence; second, pure air out the house and within; third, the keeping of every organ of the body, so far as possible, in constant working order; fourth, regular exercise every day in all weathers, supported in many cases by breathing movements and by walking and climbing stairs; fifth, going to bed early and rising early and restricting the hours of sleep to six or seven hours; sixth, daily baths or ablutions, according to individual conditions, cold or warm or warm followed by cold; seventh, regular work and mental occupation; eighth, cultivation of placidity, cheerfulness and hopefulness of mind; ninth, employment of the great power of the mind in controlling passions and nervous fear; tenth, strengthening the will in carrying out whatever is useful and in checking the craving for stimulants, anodynes and other injurious agencies. —British Medical Journal.

Disadvantages of an Even Temper.
It is usual to envy the even tempered people—those who are never unduly elated or cast down, who "kneel on pain" all the time. If one like that sort of thing it would be equally natural to envy the animals—cows and pigs, for instance—whose serenity is seldom disturbed. For my part I think those even tempered people lose nine-tenths of the pleasure of existence. The depths of grief and gloom into which impulsive people are thrown are amply made up for by the equally unreasonable and unreasoning joy into which they spring at the slightest possible excuse, and the sorrow of a quarrel with a dear one is paid for in the delight of "munking up." Parents are very apt to impress on their children the beauty of this even disposition, but so far as I can see the only benefit derived from it is an unwrinkled complexion.—Donahoe's Magazine.

How Javanese Settle Quarrels.
The Javanese manner of settling quarrels is quite original. When one man has offended another the injured party gives notice that he is angry by drawing in the sand before the door of the offender a circle with a straight line across it, indicating that his affection, which would have been eternal, has been cut in two. Friends of both parties then shut them up. They parley awhile, then pretend to be born again, prattle as little children and finally as men become reconciled and embrace. Should one be refractory and refuse to be conciliated he is ostracized by the community so effectively that he is soon brought to terms. It is just possible that our enlightened citizens might consider this method better than knockdown arguments and certainly much cheaper than going to law.

The Ominous Owl.
It's an odd thing, but there are a number of people who have a distinct antipathy to the screech owl and cannot listen to a single burst of its hilarity without shuddering. The screech owl is supposed by the negroes on southern plantations to be in direct communication with all the ghosts and goblins of the forests. He plays a great part in the more weird folklore stories of the darkies. A funny superstition in regard to the screech owl is that if you will take your shoe or slipper off your left foot the first time you hear an owl laugh and turn the shoe sole upward on the floor and place your "stockin' foot" on the bottom of the shoe's sole the owl will stop laughing and fly for ten miles without rest.

Reading.
Reading is not a lost art to the same degree that conversation is, but it has in most cases an arrested development through so much reading that makes no demand upon aesthetic sensibility, so that one is apt to bring to a story full of delicate shades of thought and feeling the same mind which he yields to a newspaper, putting a blunt interrogation as to its meaning as conveyed in the terms of a rational proposition, and the writer's charm is wholly lost upon him.—Harper's.

A Courtroom Joke.
Lord Erskine, when chief justice of England, presided once at the Chelmsford assizes, when a case of breach of promise of marriage was tried before him in which a Miss Tickell was plaintiff. The counsel was a pompous young man named Stanton, who opened the case with solemn emphasis thus: "Tickell, the plaintiff, my lord." Erskine dryly interrupted him with: "Oh, tickle her yourself, Mr. Stanton. It would be unbecoming to my position."

How Some People Manage.
"I believe," said Mrs. Borroughs, "that if I can get the use of Mrs. Noowood's shell cups and saucers next Friday and Mrs. Hilly will loan me her spoons and Mrs. Housekeep will let me have some of her nice oolong mixture—I believe I'll buy a pound of sugar and give a pink tea."—Louisville Courier Journal.

Artistic Difficulties.
"It is difficult for a beginner in the drama even to walk across the stage properly, isn't it?" asked the student. "Yes," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes absently. "But it isn't as hard as learning to walk between stations."—Washington Star.

Of More Consequence.
Hanley—That man Wilkes is going everywhere telling lies about you. Mercer—I don't mind that, but if he begins to tell the truth I'll let him know it.—London Tit-Bits.

Engelstein and the Directory.
"How did Napoleon get his assistants at the time of the consulate?" "Oh, I suppose he looked in the directory."—Yale Record.

A TRIBUTE TO SENATOR HOAR

Address of Congressman Powers
At the Congressional Service
Last Sunday.

Congressman Powers tribute to the late Senator Hoar in the exercises last Sunday at Washington was as follows:

Mr. Speaker, Massachusetts has good reason to be proud of the long line of eminent statesmen which she has given to the legislative service of the nation. The Commonwealth has been fortunate in the existence of political conditions which rendered it possible at all times to select for Congressional service men of the highest character, ability, and devotion to duty. This has been especially true of her representation in the Senate.

I appreciate how difficult the task of attempting to place a just estimate upon the character and services of a life at its close. The place which Mr. Hoar will take in American history can be far better determined a generation hence than now. Great political policies which he espoused or opposed still remain unsettled. Future events must decide the wisdom and value of the opinions which he so earnestly and ably contended for during the closing years of his life. No one, however, will question but that he was one of the great men of the generation in which he lived. He possessed those qualities of character and temperament which rendered him most attractive to the American people. He was aggressive and fearless, and at the same time tolerant and liberal. He possessed intense convictions, which he was ready to defend in any field of intellectual conflict. He worked out his own standards of character and conduct. He was a humanitarian in the broadest sense of the term. He recognized good in all mankind. He understood and sympathized with the tremendous struggle of the human race to improve its condition, and he was easily moved by sympathetic impulses.

My acquaintance with Mr. Hoar began in 1875. He was then a representative in Congress from the Worcester district, but he was still in active touch with the practice of his profession which he loved so well. He was then 49 years of age. The mellowing influence of years was not then upon him. He was the keen, caustic, aggressive lawyer, the equal if not the superior of any attorney of his years in his own Commonwealth. By inheritance, education, and temperament he was equipped for a great career at the bar. Had he remained out of politics and devoted his life to his chosen profession there can be no doubt he would have achieved great fame as a lawyer and taken a foremost rank at the American bar.

When Mr. Hoar entered Congress he was 43 years of age. He had already acquired from the practice of his profession what may properly be regarded as a competency for most attorneys. He contemplated after a service of one or two terms in Congress to return to private life and continue the practice of law. But like nearly all Members of Congress, he yielded to the fascinating influence of a public career. He felt the broadening influence of his surroundings. He was in touch with the great Republic and felt the ceaseless throb of the pulse of a restless and ambitious nation. The ardent patriotism of six generations of American ancestry was in his veins. His law books were closed, but the history of his country was open to him as never before. He reviewed in a new light the great struggle from Plymouth to Yorktown, and from Yorktown to Appomattox, and that other great struggle of legislative conflict beginning with the Declaration of Independence and the Articles of Confederation down to the amendments to the Constitution, which worked out the reconstruction of the Republic and rendered its future secure.

The noted success of his Congressional career during his first two terms in the House made him conscious of his capacity and power in this new field of activity, and he decided to yield to the command of his constituency and devote his life to the public service. For thirty-five years—a full generation—he gave the best that was in him to the service of his country. During that long period no important question of legislation was under consideration that did not receive his careful thought and attention. Upon most of them it is to be seen the impress of his keen and forceful intellect.

No man of his time had a more comprehensive knowledge of American history. It was a knowledge always at his command. But few men have lived who knew the literature of the world better than he. The habits of the scholar never deserted him. His library to him was peopled with the great spirits of the past. He loved to commune with the best thoughts of all ages. He made a careful study of the English language. His diction was pure and forceful. In the latter years of his life he prepared his speeches with the greatest care. He believed, as he had the right to, that they were to live in American history.

In the early years of his life he was an intense partisan. He was a member of the Free Soil party, which was pledged to a great reform. But with advancing years he ceased to be a partisan. He was fond of the political party to which he belonged, but his long experience had taught him that even a political party may not always be right. He looked upon political parties as a means to an end. Above party and party creed was the Republic. Mr. Hoar took exception to several of the policies adopted by the Republican party, and he did not hesitate to criticize and even denounce his own party in the belief that it was his duty to do so. He entertained positive views concerning the acquisition and the government of the Philippines. He was opposed to any policy which did not provide the same form of government for all people living under the American flag. The wisdom of his views upon that question can not yet be determined. No man has the right to say that he was not right and the majority of his party wrong. A generation hence that question can be determined with exact justice to all. No one questions the courage, the patriotism and the devotion to duty of Mr. Hoar. He reached his conclusions after careful study, and was always prepared to defend them.

Within a little more than a half century Massachusetts has been called upon to mourn the loss of three great statesmen—Webster, Sumner, and Hoar. All represented her in the Congress of the nation. Each achieved his greatness in the Senate Chamber. Each in his time was the idol of her people, and with the close of their earthly careers deep sorrow rested upon the old Commonwealth. But no more profound or lasting sorrow ever filled the hearts of the people of my Commonwealth than did the announcement of the death of Mr. Hoar. He was the friend of all the people; he had served all with equal fidelity and devotion. He was a product of Massachusetts by birth, education, and citizenship. Massachusetts gave this son to the Republic. The service which he rendered must hereafter be a part of the history of the nation.

BENEATH THE GILDED DOME.

If the evidence of the Hotel men at the Semi-Colon hearing last Tuesday may be taken as a true indication of the present condition of things, the community is rapidly adjusting itself to the situation. According to the statements made at the hearing the people who are suffering from the eleven o'clock closing law are so few in numbers and so inconsequential in comparison with the great public, that they are lost in their own insignificance. So far as making out the case of the petitioners was concerned, the case might as well have rested with the closing of the evidence for the petitioners. A law should not be removed from the Statute Books unless there is a strong case made out for its removal, and to dignify the petitioners' presentation with anything suggesting a case, would be like fearing a permanent loss to the State by the enforced absence of some members of last year's legislature from the present body. The cause of Mr. Hollis, for it seemed to be his alone, was the embodiment of weakness and moved the observer to pity as the poor old semi-colon "mistake" shrivelled up into the dimensions of nothingness and folded its hands in the calmness of welcomed oblivion.

The battle against the "mistake" has been fought and an unconditional surrender was made Tuesday, that no committee report can constitute conditional, upon the floor of the House. Some interesting incidents occurred at the hearing; Mr. Brownell, the landlord of the Parker House in New Bedford, said that the passage of the bill would not effect him very much one way or the other, as most of the people in New Bedford were in bed and asleep at eleven o'clock every night. The same day that Mr. Brownell made that statement, an old citizen of that city said that New Bedford was as wide open as any city in the state, and that the condition of things there were simply outrageous. Certain comments regarding New Bedford would seem to bear out the indictment of this citizen and discount the remarks of Mr. Brownell. A good deal was said by the witnesses for the petition about the water tax paid by the first-class hotels in Boston, which amounted in the aggregate, in Mr. Whipple's opinion, to $91,000 a year. Some people might wonder just what the relations were between the water tax paid by the landlord and the liquors which went over the bar of their hotels. It was thought that perhaps the patrons of the bars really paid the water tax in the end. One witness said, that to give the extra hour was really a temperance measure, for people would not drink as fast if they had more time in which to drink, and he contended that fast drinking was injurious as well as fast eating.

The Committee on Roads and Bridges gave a hearing last week on a bill entitled "An Act to provide for the Safety of Persons Using the Highways," which proved to be rather more than of usual interest. The first thing to attract a casual reader of the bill, was that it was aimed at vehicles propelled by muscular power, and one at once observes that the measure must be in the interests of automobilists as they certainly do not propel their vehicles by muscular power, even if they do exercise a good deal of cheek when on the highway, and before the hearing had progressed far, it became evident that the real object of the petitioner was to secure a law to protect automobiles from being run down by baby carriages. At first blush, it may appear to be seeking unnecessary protection from the commonwealth, but when the relative helplessness of the babies involved is taken into account, it will be seen at once that the strong arm of the State should be invoked in aid of perhaps the weakest of all animate life. The automobile infant needs constant and unceasing care, it should be nursed and tended by the most untiring diligence and watched over with more than a mother's solicitude, for only by eternal vigilance can its life be preserved and cruel indeed must be the heart that responds "who cares," as too many do, in this unfeeling age. When the vigorous nurse girl, with wanton disregard of the frail automobile and its frail occupant, unheeding obtrudes herself and her engine of destruction, into the public highway, she should be hedged about by every conceivable device known to the age to protect the followers of Bishop of Lenox from impending death. The bill calls for a light on the baby carriage which shall throw a reflection at least three hundred feet from the front and rear, and if the nurse girl shall be convicted of violating the law, she shall be fined $10, and should she repeat the crime, $20 shall be deducted from her wages. If Mr. Dooley should take out his wheelbarrow, which may be propelled by muscular power, for an hour's spin down the boulevard, without decking his vehicle with Chinese lanterns in honor of his native land, he shall pay a fine into the Town treasury. Of course if Mr. Dooley should have a diamond shirt stud, as the automobilist does that ornament would cast a light three hundred feet fore and aft and Mr. Dooley would be exempt, for the bill is in the interests of the diamond wearer. NOTE: The foregoing may appear to be a trifle derisive, but a perusal of this remarkable measure (Senate Bill 14) will disclose the fact that baby carriages, wheelbarrows and tipcats without lights would be prohibited on the highways should this bill become a law.

Governor Douglas is rapidly putting on the habiliments of a full-fledged Beacon Hill statesman. He has just joined the Algonquin Club which is one of the outward manifestations of greatness that appears to be essential to the holding of office in these present days. Some reader may like to know what mysterious significance there is about the name of Algonquin that is given to the Beacon Street exclusive club. It is said that when the Club was first formed and while they were debating about the name for the organization, it was the habit for the doorman to call up to the headwaiter, whose name was Quinn, and ask if all the members had left for their homes, and his question was as follows: "All gone, Quinn?" and so it came to be that the Club was named the Algonquin.

There is the eleven o'clock written law, and there is an eleven o'clock unwritten law at the State House. (One is on the Statute Books, and relates to the closing of business where liquor is sold, and the other is written in the habits of legislative committees. For years the morning hour for commencing the hearings has been 10:30, and for years it has been the habit of the committees to get into their committee rooms not earlier than eleven o'clock, and even at that hour a quorum is rarely ready for business. Much stress is laid upon the importance of legislative committee work and it is the custom of the two branches to follow the action of the committee to a considerable extent, but as it is practised, legislative committee work is a farce and a delusion. So far as the making of laws by committee is concerned, it is a mighty slipshod and unbusinesslike proceeding. Of course, there are exceptions, and, as usual, the exceptions present glaring contrasts, the judiciary, ways and means and some others of the thirty-four joint standing committees, proceed along business lines and accomplish a good deal of work, but as a rule, that branch of legislative service is very disappointing and unsatisfactory. There are a few chairmen in every legislature who understand how to conduct a hearing, and many others who understand how not to conduct one. A most important duty of the presiding officer is to select chairmen of committees, for upon them develops very much of the real responsibility. Perhaps one of the most imperfect features of committee work is deciding a matter before the case is heard. It may seem like a rash thing to say, but often matters that come to the legislature are passed upon by committees before the hearings, of course this cannot be charged as the general rule, but certainly it is a frequent exception. A striking example of this practice may be cited in the case of the liquor committee on the Semi-Colon bill. This was a matter calling for the annulment of an existing statute, and the burden of proof rested, of course, upon the petitioners. The attempt was decidedly the weakest this year that it has been since the agitation began, and the opposition unusually strong, notwithstanding some weak spots, and yet not one of those who appeared in opposition had a doubt but that the bill would be reported, and those most familiar with the committee could poll that body almost to a man before a word had been said upon the matter one way or the other; what would the reader think of a case before a jury under such conditions? The Tucker jury was sure to acquit or disagree, in the minds of the great public, and yet that jury voted, to a man, after hearing all the evidence, to bring in a verdict convicting in the first degree.

Coming Attractions

Grand Opera House—Being a newspaper man of exceptional perception and long experience, Langdon McCormick, the author of "Hearts Adrift" has had a chance to study well, not only the people, but the mode of living among the middle and lower classes in New York. In "Hearts Adrift," which is next week's attraction at the Boston Grand Opera House, he has gathered together a heterogeneous group of characters presenting nearly every phase of human personality. The company presenting "Hearts Adrift" is reported to be one of unusual strength, headed by E. L. Snader as Captain Teddy, and the production in its entirety a very elaborate and costly one. The usual matinees will be given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, with an extra matinee on Wednesday, Washington's Birthday.

Tremont Theatre—Lew Dockstader and his great minstrels have repeated the success that attended their engagement of last season at the Tremont Theatre. The house has been crowded at every performance and the big audience, when not incapacitated by laughing, have applauded from curtain rise until the finish of the last act. Unquestionably Dockstader is the foremost artist in the burnt cork world. He is the class of his profession and anything he does is well done. Dockstader demonstrated years ago that he possessed original ideas which promised to lift the familiar style of entertainment into higher and more interesting channels and he has carried these ideas into effect in his present production. Every feature is a worthy one and the entertainment as a whole is finished and complete.

Keith's Theatre—Wednesday, Feb. 22, Washington's birthday anniversary, the doors of Keith's theatre will open at 11 a. m., two hours earlier than usual, as is customary on holidays. Among the noted entertainers announced to appear for the week of Feb. 20 are Charles T. Aldrich, one of the greatest juggling comedians and burlesque magicians in the world; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry, well-known Bostonians in an amusing skit, with vocal and dancing specialties; Elizabeth Murray, storyteller and vocalist; Mlle. Latina, who will give pleasing and novel exhibitions in physical culture; Marion Garson, a talented soprano; O'Brien and Hale in the amusing comedy sketch, "Ticks and Clicks"; Potter and Hartwell, head-to-head balancers and general acrobats, and Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey, who will present a new comedy sketch, entitled, "An Eventful Evening." An entire new set of motion pictures will be exhibited in the biography.

Majestic Theatre—The announcement that DeWolf Hopper and his excellent company are to appear here at the Majestic Theatre next Monday evening in Mr. Hopper's first and fondest opera success "Wang," is an event that is sure to attract the attention of a varied circle of theatre-loving people, the famous piece embracing as it does, opportunities for so many popular amusement features, comedy, romance, melody, topical verse, rich costuming, character study, dances of every description, beautiful women, brilliant scenic effect, etc. Messrs. Shubert and Brady promise all the scenery, costumes and general stage properties that made his Gotham revival famous in a night, and the company supporting Mr. Hopper contains some of the very best talent to be found in the theatrical world.

Empire Theatre—The event of the past week in Boston amusement circles was the opening of the handsome Washington Street entrance to the Empire Theatre formerly Boston Music Hall. From the time the gates were swung open on Saturday night, Feb. 11, to the present writing, the beautiful outer and inner lobbies have been thronged with eager and enthusiastic visitors, who have stopped to admire the architectural and decorative beauties of this entrance before proceeding to the auditorium. That this entrance was well worth the tremendous outlay devoted to its construction by the management has already been evinced by the increased and steady patronage of this popular and accepted home of all star vaudeville. For the week of Feb. 20, another monster bill has been prepared, including only the very best talent and features obtainable today in the vaudeville market.

Boston Theatre—"Quincy Adams Sawyer" comes to the Boston Theatre next week opening on Monday night, Feb. 20, a return engagement for which there has already been such a big demand for seats that the advance sale was opened two weeks before the first performance. This big New England play comes back to us with the same entire cast and production that attracted such big houses last September and returns here after its first tour of the principal cities of the South where the press has been unanimous in according that same measure of praise which has marked the career of the play in the North and the East. The stay this time will be for two weeks only. There will be souvenir performances both Wednesday afternoon and evening of the second and last week of the engagement, March 1st. In casting about for an appropriate souvenir Manager McCarty of the Boston Theatre hit upon the happy idea to present to each holder of a reserved seat ticket at those performances the game which is all the rage this season, called "Stage."

The Paradise of Umbrellas.

Surakarta is the paradise of umbrellas. They are carried proudly over the heads of every official and every nobleman, but invariably are shut at the approach of a person of higher rank, and inside the kraton no umbrella may be carried open except that of the emperor himself. The umbrella is the crown, the wand of office, the outward sign of rank and distinction. There are umbrellas of gold inside and out for the emperor, of gold outside only for the empress, with a stripe of yellow satin for the emperor's brothers, with a wider stripe of the same material for his illegitimate brothers, of white silk with a narrow gold stripe for the legitimate brothers, and so on ad infinitum. Every official, every military officer, exhibits his rank in his umbrella, which is invariably held from behind by an attendant whenever he leaves his house in sunshine or cloudy weather. There is an official guide book to the umbrella labyrinth of Surakarta which contains not less than 300 various designs in all imaginable colors and ornamentation.—Century.

Calvary Clover.

Calvary clover, a flower strangely symbolic of the principles of Christianity, flourishes in Palestine. Calvary clover leaves, like those of other clovers, are trefoil, embodying the doctrine of the Trinity, the central truth of Christianity. Soon after the plant begins to appear above the ground a deep spot of redlike blood appears upon each division of the leaf, but this disappears after a few weeks.

During the day the tiny leaflets form themselves into the shape of a cross, and as the sun sinks to rest the leaves again fold together. It has been suggested, as if in prayer. In due time the blossom becomes a small yellow flower and then a spiral pod covered with thorns. In ripening the flowers interlace, and in their peculiar positions many persons think they can detect the outline of a crown. Tradition says that it is good fortune to plant the seed of the Calvary clover on Good Friday.

Society's Pleasures.

Since the magnificent times of the Roman empire there has never been a period when people have been so overfed, overamused and overstimulated as in the Imperial London of today.—Lady's Pictorial.

Probably Not.

"Is Pickleby a manure artist?"
"I don't know. Why?"
"I just saw him and he told me that he had charge of a hundred hands at his place of business."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Value of a Name.

Nelson, a thriving little English town, is a living instance of the value of a name. Not long after the battle of Trafalgar some tinkers, tanners or other person established a tiny wayside inn and called it after the naval hero. There was nobody on the spot from whom to expect custom, but the road led to and from populous districts. Travelers stopped at the place, and presently a cottage or two began to rise, then more of them, and the name of the public house answered for the whole. That was the nucleus of the present town. Now 40,000 people live around the site which the old inn-keeper chose and called after the name of his hero.

Passing Counterfeits.

Johnny Say, pupil, passing counterfeit money is unlawful, isn't it? Papa—Yes, Johnny—Well, papa, if a man was walking along the street and saw a ten dollar counterfeit bill upon the sidewalk and did not pick it up wouldn't he be guilty of passing counterfeit money and couldn't he be arrested and put in jail? Papa—More likely the lunatic asylum. Now you may go to bed, my son.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Method in Her Madness.

Charles—Why, you silly thing! What are you putting your damp hands out on the window sill for? You'll get them all rough and red. Annabel—Yes, I know. But Mr. de Millon thinks that every woman ought to do all sorts of housework, and I'm getting my hands ready to show off tonight.

of a banking institution should control its management with a view to the safety of its depositors.

The Directors of the Old Colony Trust Company represent many of the largest business interests of New England. The policy of the Company in all its activities is passed on by the Directors, and all loans and other transactions are under their close supervision. The interest the Directors take in the Company and the experience they have brought to its management are largely responsible for its growth, and are as important to the protection of its depositors as its capital, surplus, and stockholder's liability of over $8,000,000.

All accounts, whether large or small, receive the same attention, and interest is allowed on balances of $500 and over. Suburban residents are invited to investigate the unusual facilities of the Temple Place office in the centre of the Boston shopping district. An illustrated pamphlet describing this office will be sent on request.

BURDON-KETCHAM.

Mr. Edward Oscar Burdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Burdon of West Newton was married on Wednesday evening, Feb. 8, to Miss Helen Ketcham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Ketcham, at the bride's residence in Burlington, Iowa. The Burlington Hawkeye describes the wedding as "the handsomest affair of the kind that has been held in Burlington for many years."

The ceremony took place at eight o'clock and was witnessed by a large company of relatives and near friends. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Roma Ketcham, a maid of honor and a little niece and namesake, Helen Ketcham, of St. Joseph, Mo., as flower girl. A brother of the bride, Mr. Frank H. Ketcham Jr. was best man. The bridal party descended the broad stairs led by Rev. W. J. Spaulding pastor of the Methodist church of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. He was followed by the bridegroom and his best man then the maid of honor, next the little flower bearer and following her the bride, who was met at the foot of the stairs by her father, who conducted her to the chancel where Dr. Spaulding pronounced the wedding ceremony, using a ring service.

The bridal music, the Mendelssohn wedding march, and "O Promise Me," was played by Fischer's orchestra. The bride's gown was an artistic creation of white liberty satin and Irish crochet lace. The corsage was all soft folds with a one-piece collar and front panel to the foot of the gown, of the exquisite lace. Medallions of the lace were placed between the groups of broad tucks on the skirt and finished with an embroidery of satin rope. She wore pearls and her long veil was caught with pearls. She carried bride's roses. Miss Roma Ketcham's gown was of pale blue crepe de chine and she carried white carnations. The flower bearer was in white and pink.

From half past eight until after ten o'clock a large reception was held. Mr. Burdon is a lawyer and prominent resident of Seattle, Wash., where he is counsel and a director in the Southern Pacific Rwy. His bride is a daughter of the president of the Company, and a most accomplished woman.

After a wedding trip to the East, Mr. and Mrs. Burdon will reside at Seattle.

LETTER TO A NEWTON PAINTER.

Dear Sir: Let's talk it right out before folks; there's nothing to hide in your business or ours; if there is, we'd better hide ourselves.

We are in trade to make money; so are you. We make it by saving our customer's money; so do you. Our object, in trade, is to save your customers' wood from rotting and iron and steel and tin from rusting; yours the same.

We work for thousands of property owners; you for a few. We can do some things that you can't do; we have the facilities. You can do some things that we can't; you are there. Let us work together; be faithful to one-another. We can serve our customers better by working together and being faithful to one-another.

Your dollar, put into our paint, will paint more feet than in any other way; and the paint will last longer. This saves you money, and saves your customers' money. That's all there is in our whole business.

Yours Truly

F. W. Devoe & Co.

J. M. Briggs and Son, New York, McWain and Son, Newton Centre and W. E. Tomlinson, West Newton sell our paint.

The Art of Eating.

Eating is the first thing we learn to do and the last thing we learn to do right. Some never learn it at all and end their lives and their happiness through the neglect. As it consumes much of our time and must always do so it is a duty to make it an adequate source of pleasure. It is something which all may appreciate, and so has much to do with democratizing pleasure. As long as pleasure is confined to the higher—to music, literature or contemplation—it must be limited and be the privilege of a few who can have the required culture. It is important to secure enjoyments which all men may have and not depreciate the capacity of the poor or low. That there may be much happiness it must be in the many, and these can have only a simple happiness. The good things of life must be found in the common acts in the elementary things which are necessary to life itself or which every one will occasionally have. To disparage "physical" enjoyments—though all enjoyments are such—is to try to limit enjoyment to the rich or the educated.—Boston Cooking School Magazine.

Sleeping in Church.

"Some men preach," said Sydney Smith, "as if they thought sin is to be taken out of a man as Eve was taken out of Adam, by casting him into a profound slumber." So at any rate thought not South, who, preaching one day at Whitehall, observed King Charles II. and several of his attendants asleep. Stopping down, he cried out to one of the delinquents. "My lord, I am sorry to interrupt you, but if you snore so loud you will wake the king." His majesty thereupon awoke and, turning to his neighbor, remarked with his accustomed good nature: "This man must be made a bishop. Remind me on the next vacancy." Latimer speaks of a woman who suffered from insomnia, and who, all soporifics having failed, was taken to the church of St. Thomas of Acres, when she fell at once into a refreshing slumber.—London Mail.

He Shut the Fire In.

A bright lad was given a dime the other day by a visitor to whom he had been exhibited as the pride of the household. The youngster promptly lost the coin under the bed in his room and in searching for it with a lighted candle set fire to the bedding. He found the dime and went downstairs without saying a word about the conflagration. A few minutes later the head of the house sniffed suspiciously. "I smell smoke," he remarked. "Something's burning." "It's my room," admitted the youthful prodigy, "but," he added reassuringly, with a flash of the brightness in which the family took so much pride, "the fire can't get out. I closed the door tight." The fire department arrived in time to save the house.—Philadelphia Record.

An Old Cure For Scurvy.

Scurvy used to be regularly treated when it was possible by burying the patients up to their necks in fresh earth, a practice officially recommended in the British navy less than a century ago. Twenty of the crew of the frigate Blonde were so treated on the shore of Donna Marina bay, Santo Domingo. Holes were dug in the softest soil on the beach. Into each of these a man was put and buried to his chin, while a detachment of their shipmates was told off to keep the flies from their faces. They were kept in this position for two hours, and the treatment was so effective that four days later all the sufferers were able to rejoin the frigate.

Looking Glasses In Coffins.

One of the ancient customs connected with Swedish funerals was to place a small looking glass in the coffin of an unmarried female, so that when the last trump sounds she might be able to arrange her tresses. It was the practice for Scandinavian maidens to wear their hair flowing loosely, while the matrons wore it bound about the head and generally covered with some form of cap; hence the unmarried woman was imagined as awakening at the judgment day with more untidy locks than her wedded sisters and more in need of a glass.—Westminster Review.

The Ladder of Life.

All the events of a life are necessary to a higher development. The common task is a round by which we climb to glorious achievement. The ladder which leads us to perfection is made up of small events and small victories. In the economy of life nothing is useless and nothing is wasted. Everything in its place is the best thing for that place. Life is a law, not an accident.—A. J. C. Norris.

Reformed.

Mrs. Dearborn—Do you believe in marrying a man to reform him? Mrs. Wabash—Sure! I married my first husband to reform him. "What was wrong with him?" "He was a bachelor." "Oh, I see how you reformed him." "Not only that; I understand he's had three other wives since I left him."—Yonkers Statesman.

A Young Critic.

"Papa," said the pastor's little girl, watching him constructing and revising his Sunday sermon, "does God tell you what to write?" "Yes, my child, God tells me." "Then what do you scratch it out for?"

Revenge.

Witherby—I say, did you recommend that cook of ours to my wife? Plankington—Yes, I believe so. Witherby—Well, I wish you would come round tonight and take dinner with us.

A lean compromise is better than a fat lawsuit.—German Proverb.

BENEATH THE GILDED DOME.

One of the sublimest sentences in that remarkable production of the human mind, the Constitution of Massachusetts, is found in the Third Section of Chapter One, and designated as Article 1. It reads: "There shall be in the legislature of this Commonwealth, a representation of the people, annually elected, and founded upon the principal of equality."

In the great hall of the State House, the Hall of Representatives, there assembles each year, the body of men that has been elected by the people in pursuance of that Article in the Constitution, and the assemblage this year presents an interesting study to any person who is given to the contemplation of the life on Beacon Hill, the most interesting mountain reservation in the Commonwealth. First, in the group of 240 men, who compose the House of Representatives is, of course, Speaker Frothingham, who is, in point of fact, the second man of power in the official life of Massachusetts. Next to the Governor comes the Speaker of the House, if we recall the all round responsibilities of the office and the many points of contact between the Speaker and the people.

Who is Speaker Frothingham, and what makes his personality so interesting at this time? A sketch of his life would be a little too previous at this point in his career, as, if his life is spared, there is more to come than is now written on the slate, but it may be mentioned in passing that the Speaker was born in that part of Boston called Jamaica Plain, sometime during the day of July 13, 1871, and a very little figuring will reveal the fact that he was thirty-three years old last July. He began his school education in the Boston public schools and completed it in the Harvard College Law School in 1896. Mr. Bridgman says he was in the United States Marine Corps as 2d Lieut. "Yankee" in 1898, the Yankee may refer to Mr. Frothingham or it may refer to some ship in the service. Mr. Frothingham entered the House in 1901, and by easy stages advanced to the Speaker's chair, where he took his seat, after a spirited contest, a year ago. He soon acquired the knack of how to handle the gavel, and before the session was far advanced he demonstrated that the House had made no mistake in selecting its presiding officer. He is now in his second year of service, and it may be well said of him that he has fulfilled the anticipations of his most ardent admirers, as he followed in the footsteps of Long, Brackett and Bates, who are the only men who have been Speakers and afterwards Governors during the last forty years. If that suggestion is prophetic perhaps it will be well for the reader to take heed thereof and prepare his ballot accordingly.

From a good vantage ground, or rather seat, we look down upon the House of Representatives this February day and pick out the men who lead in legislation and others who wish they did. The first to catch the eye is Hayes of Lowell, whose feet have worn the carpet more during the past fifteen years than any other pair of pedal extremities now wearing Douglas shoes. The Lowell member has run the gauntlet and taken in all the possibilities and some of the advantages of fame, and still has stock in trade for considerable of a future. When at home, Mr. Hayes employs his time in making cigars and votes for another return to the Hall of Legislation.

The man who is just walking down the aisle is Robert Luce of Somerville, who, for half a dozen years has represented that goodly city and served the state as well. He is the father of the Luce Law and has won a fame as the advocate for purity in elections that has brought down upon his thinny clad head an assortment of epithets that vary in magnitude as do the stars of Heaven. Mr. Luce has senatorial capacities, being honest, industrious and intelligent.

The Hon. Martin Lomasney reversed the order by coming down from the Senate, where he served in 1896-97 to the House this year, with a mission of which no man knoweth as yet, but it is supposed that the Boston boss is gathering material for a new book to be called "A Simpler Life."

Western Massachusetts has a number of attractive men in this Legislature, among them may be mentioned Representative Norcross of Monson, who hails from Thomas W. Kenefick's district, and who has grown in estimation since he came into the House, and from which he is likely to graduate into the Senate when Fordie Parker lets go. Mr. Norcross has undergone the penalty of reminding the observer of Mark Twain, and now is being rewarded by having people say that Mark Twain looks like Mr. Norcross. The Monson man enjoys the rare distinction of being a good singer, an accomplishment that it would do no harm to have many of the House possess.

Fame climbs a variety of ladders, and Simon Swig of Taunton, is trying his hand at a ladder upon the bottom rung of which he has planted his feet, while the topmost rung looks afar off to his limited vision. There are many interesting men in the pit below, as we sit looking down upon the group that has gathered in response to the continued ringing of the bells in the reading room, where men love to gather and chat the hours away. Some of these members will be alluded to in this column next week.

One of the most mysterious features of proposed legislation was the introduction into the House last week, by Representative Webster of Boston, of an order authorizing the committee on public lighting, to summons witnesses and employ a stenographer at the hearings on the Boston gas bills that are coming in this week. If that doesn't savor of Lawson then all guesses are off on the solution. The committee does not ask for it, and Mr. Webster is not one of the committee. While we are on the subject, the opinion may as well be expressed that the whole gas agitation is for the purpose of opening up a great big gas fight for the benefit of Thomas W. Lawson of Boston. Every straw that is in the wind points to T. W. L., and the legislature is to be asked to contribute to the fame, or infame, of the man who said that the Massachusetts Legislature was bought and sold like fish and sausage in the market. If that youth with strange device, should be caught in the State House, he ought to be held up long enough to extort from him proof or apology, two things that seem to be entirely foreign from his anatomy.

A Western member of the Legislature, said the other day, that he guessed that the Methodist Bishop who said that Boston was the dirtiest and wickedest city in the country, was practically safe from any chance of a libel suit. "Why, if I could have the dirt that has been in the streets of Boston all winter to top dress my farm next spring, I'd have the biggest crop in the fall that has ever pulled out of our town. I have been across Tremont street twice today, and my boots smell more like Limburger cheese than anything else." An employee at the South Station was asked the other day if the city of Boston had cleaned the street opposite that station this winter, and his reply was: "I guess that street has not been cleaned since Jim Donovan went into the City Hall."

If the Legislature does not abate the Smoke Nuisance before it adjourns, no member failing to work and vote for any measure looking to such abatement ought ever to be returned to the General Court. This is an issue upon which there can be no party or other difference. The effect of the law prohibiting the emitting of black smoke from chimneys for more than five minutes at a time, at present results in the air being filled with soot for about twenty-three hours and fifty-five minutes every day. The old lady who said that she preferred blue crockery because it did not show the dirt ought to have lived in Boston, where everything, but the City Hall, shows the dirt.

The glitter and pomp of the celebration of Washington's birthday at the State House Wednesday is to be something beyond comprehension. Governor Douglas is going to have a reception that will absolutely make recent Chief Magistrates blush for their feeble efforts in that direction, and the great and glorious staff is to be present in the fullness of its grandeur, and cover with confusion and shame the gilded dome itself; an orchestra is to discourse sweet music and everything is to be swept and garnished for the event; Washington's farewell address is to be read to slow music, the story of the hatchet will be told every ten minutes in the Representatives Hall by one who was an eye witness that is, one who has seen the stump, and is now a member of the Senate, and Washington is to be carried across the Delaware by two little girls dressed in white. That will do for a Democratic, every day working man governor.

When Lee Resigned.

In "Recollections and Letters of General Lee," by his son, Captain R. E. Lee, a new light is thrown on the great commander at the time of his resignation from the United States army. In a letter to his sister he says:

"With all my devotion to the Union and the feeling of loyalty and duty of an American citizen, I have not been able to make up my mind to raise my hand against my relatives, my children, my home. I have therefore resigned my commission in the army, and, save in defense of my native state, with the sincere hope that my poor services may never be needed, I hope I may never be called on to draw my sword. I know you will blame me, but you must think as kindly of me as you can and believe that I have endeavored to do what I thought right."

That he really did not expect to fight is shown by the following extract from a letter to his wife: "I do not know what my position will be. I should like to retire to private life if I could be with you and the children, but if I can be of any service to the state or her cause I must continue."

Circumstantial Evidence.
Sir Henry Hawkins, a brilliant advocate and one of England's greatest criminal judges, expressed the following opinion in his "Reminiscences."
"Let me say a word about circumstantial evidence. Some writers have spoken of it as a kind of 'dangerous innovation' in our criminal procedure. It is almost the only evidence that is obtainable in all great crimes and it is the best and most reliable. I have witnessed many great trials for murder, but do not remember one where there was an eyewitness to the deed. How is it possible, then, to bring home the charge to the culprit unless you rely on circumstantial evidence?"

"Circumstantial evidence is the evidence of circumstances—facts that speak for themselves and that cannot be contradicted. Circumstances have no motive to deceive, while human testimony is too often the product of every kind of motive."

Fish That Change Color.

Anglers have noticed that fish of the same species caught in the same stream often differ completely in color and take protective hues that match the prevailing local coloring of their homes. Herr Otto Gottlieb found by a course of experiments with turbot that this faculty of changing color in accordance with the surroundings is primarily due to the action of light upon the optic nerve. The light does not act directly upon the eye, but is reflected from such substances as are around and affects the coloring cells through the nerve centers of the fish. Proof of this was obtained by severing the optic nerve of the turbot, when it was found that it no longer possessed the power of changing color.—Pearson's.

The Meaning of "Quite."

"Quite" strictly means "completely" and is rightly used in such sentences as "The flower is quite faded." Its secondary meaning, "very," to a great extent, has the authority of good writers, though such expressions as "quite young" and "quite hot" have a colloquial ring about them. There is, however, springing up of late the slovenly practice of employing the adverb "quite" with a noun—e. g., "quite a panic ensued." If an adverb can modify a noun, where is the distinction between adverb and adjective? As a matter of fact, the functions of the adverb seem to be encroaching on those of the adjective.—London Review.

Spain's Orange Groves.

The Spanish orange region extends over eastern and southern Catalonia, Valencia, Alicante, Murcia, Malaga and Seville, and in parts of Valencia and Murcia the trees now grow in forests, the soil of the famous Valencian "huerta" lavishly manured with guano, being the richest in Europe. Here a single full grown tree will yield 1,500 and at times as many as 1,800 oranges in a season, fruit bearing beginning when the trees reach their sixth year and increasing until they are twenty, when degeneration usually sets in.

Wedding Anniversaries.

According to the tradition of ages, there are fourteen wedding anniversaries to be celebrated. These are: First year, cotton; second year, paper; third year, leather; fifth year, wooden; seventh year, woolen; tenth year, tin; twelfth year, silk and fine linen; fifteenth year, crystal; twentieth year, china; twenty-fifth year, silver; thirtieth year, pearl; fortieth year, ruby; fiftieth year, golden; seventy-fifth year, diamond.

Boxed.

They were returning from a husking bee.
"And were there any red ears?" asked the friend.
"Oh, yes," responded the girl in the gingham dress. "I had two when you caught that city fellow kissing me!"—Kennebec (Me.) Journal.

Industry in His Calling.

Father: And so you want to marry Mr. Brown, my dear. Well, now, do you think he shows proper industry in his calling? Daughter (indignantly)—I should think so. Why, he's called nearly every night for a month.

Love's Glowing Fire.

Wasn't Jack Stone an old flame of yours?
"He was as long as he had money to burn. After that I fired him."—Cleveland Leader.

Reputation.

A reputation once broken may possibly be repaired, but the world will always keep its eyes on the spot where the crack was.—Josh Billings.

FREE TRIP TO WHITE MTS.

To every person who secures thirty new paid up subscriptions to the Graphic, a five days trip to the White Mountains will be given in September, the exact date to be announced later in the season. The trip will include the Crawford Notch, a stay of three days at Bethlehem, and returning via Plymouth.

Besides these splendid offers for new subscriptions, the Graphic will give substantial cash presents to those who do not reach the number necessary to secure the free trips, so that all entering the lists will be certain of some remuneration for their labors.

HOW TO WIN THE FREE TRIPS.

The rules governing this offer are simple. Everyone desiring to win a trip should apply at the Graphic office, on Centre Place, Newton, for subscription blanks. For every blank returned with a year's subscription the person by whom it was secured will receive credit on the Graphic books and every assistance will be given those endeavoring to take advantage of this offer.

The subscriptions must be bona-fide new ones. Transfers from one member of a family to another, or from one member of a household to another cannot be allowed. Two subscriptions for six months each will count for one year. The population of Newton has increased and changed so that there is a field for new subscriptions, and with a persevering effort fifty may be gained in a short time but the earliest ones will find the richest harvest. All these trips will be under the auspices of the well known Pierce Tourist Agency, which has a high reputation for looking after the comfort of its patrons, and for that careful attention to details, which makes travelling with them a pleasure and delight.

Auburndale has a touch of the one season for school virus and wishes to be classed with the cheap schools that exist in the South. With every prominent educator and scores of physicians against a plan that unduly taxes the mental and physical health of immature bodies it is strange that sensible persons will advocate a change to such undesirable conditions.

Mayor Weed has appointed an excellent set of Trustees of the Read Fund. We hope that a permanent commission will administer that fund in accordance with the terms under which it was given the city.

The Man-Hunters

Newton has quite a reputation as an amateur dramatic center and the production of "The Man-Hunters" in the parlors of Eliot church last evening, before a large audience, added increasing lustre to the thespian fame.
Mr. Leverett D. G. Bentley, who wrote the book and lyrics, and Mr.
Carl L. Ellison, who arranged the music are to be congratulated on an artistic and finished performance and the Young Men's Club on satisfying its friends. Prof. Von Der Vorkers' invention of the transformer made a hit as did the various specialties.
Among those taking part, members of the Bachelor Girls' Matrimonial Club were; Messrs R. W. Angier, Frank L. G. Hadden, Henry H. Sullivan,
Dr. H. C. Spencer, Dr. L. H. Naylor,
Frank McCammon, W. E. Porter Jr.,
D. R. Manning, Willard G. Harding,
Robert Blue Jr., and Harry P. Dowst.
Mr. Albert S. Partridge was stage manager. At the close of the performance the posters were sold at auction.

St Aloysius Society

The sixth dramatic production of the St. Aloysius Society was held at the parochial school hall on Adams street last Wednesday evening. An original military drama "Sergeant Dave" was given a fine presentation
by the following members of the society, Messrs William Enegesa, John J. Shanahan, Joseph E. Sullivan,
Joseph V. Nevins, John T. Kerens,
William Gibson, Thomas J. Reagan,
Francis T. Nevins, Walter Merrill,
John J. Delaney, James A. Wallace,
Edward Bryson, William Devereaux,
David Scanlan and Bartholomew J.
Quinlan. Mr. James O'Donnell was in charge of the production of the play and Mr. E. Joseph Burke of the musical program.

Political Notes.

Arrangements are being made for a complimentary dinner for Hon. Samuel L. Powers by prominent men of the 12th district to be given March 16th.

Clubs and Lodges

The Legion of Spanish War Veterans held their convention at Lynn on Tuesday and Wednesday. Among the Newton men were H. J. McCammon, Lieut. G. Guilford, J. F. Whitney and J. A. Manley.

At the Churches.

M. and Mme. Tsilka, with baby
Ellen, so well known in connection with the capture of Miss Ellen Stone
by bandits are to be at the Congregational church, Auburndale, next Sunday. M. Tsilka will speak in the morning upon Christian work in Bulgaria. In the evening Mme. Tsilka will tell her romantic experience.

President Franklin C. Southworth, who preaches at Channing church next Sunday morning, is probably the youngest man at the head of any theological school in the country, and his unanimous election to the presidency of Meadville was the outcome of distinguished service as a preacher and leader.

The monthly sociable was held at the Newtonville Methodist church last Tuesday evening. An old fashioned supper was provided and was followed by an entertainment.

The Rev. W. J. Dawson of London will preach at the Eliot church Sunday morning. Few holders should be in their seats early certainly by 10:15.

Rev. N. Miller Pratt of the Congregational church at Monson, will preach at the Newtonville Methodist church Sunday morning.

Mr. E. S. WILLARD.
At the Tremont Theatre, commencing February 27th.

THE PLAYHOUSE.

Tremont Theatre—Mr. E. S. Willard, the distinguished English actor,
who has not been seen in Boston since November, 1902, will reappear at the Tremont Theatre next Monday to fulfill a two week's engagement. He will devote the first week to the presentation of "The Brighter Side," a translation of Alfred Capus' play,
"La Chatelaine." Mr. Willard produced "The Brighter Side" during his recent engagement in New York, and his opinion as to its merits was warmly confirmed by large and delighted audiences. Mr. Willard will present no less than four plays during his second and last week, the program
being as follows: Monday and Tuesday evenings and Wednesday matinee
"The Middleman," by Henry Arthur Jones; Wednesday evening, "David Garrick," by T. W. Robertson; Thursday and Friday evenings and Saturday Matinee, "The Professor's Love Story," by J. M. Barrie; Saturday night, "Tom Pinch," by Charles Dickens.

FREDERICK J. WARREN DEAD.

Mr. Frederick J. Warren, president and senior member of the Warren Bros. Co. of Boston died suddenly of apoplexy at the Hotel Essex, Boston, on Tuesday morning. Mr. Warren had spent several days in New York with Mrs. Warren and returned to Boston that morning. After breakfasting at the Essex Mrs. Warren went to their home in Cambridge and Mr. Warren after telephoning his office that he felt tired went to his room and was found dead several hours later. Mr. Warren was the son of the late Herbert M. Warren of Newton and was born here Feb. 18, 1866. After graduating from the Newton schools he entered the employ of the Warren Chemical and Mfg Co
but was obliged to remove to Denver
two years later on account of his health. Here he engaged in the asphalt paving business as manager of the Colorado Paving Co. In 1889 he returned to Boston and with his brothers formed the Warren Bros. Co.
He invented and improved a new form of pavement made of crushed stone and bitumen known as "Bitulithic,"
which had a great success.

Large business cares detracted from his usual good health but his death was a great shock to his many friends and family.

He leaves a wife and one daughter aged 11 years, two sisters and six brothers.

Funeral services will be held from his Cambridge residence this afternoon.

VOLUNTEER LIFE SAVING CORPS.

The third concert in aid of the United States Volunteer Life Saving corps department of Massachusetts will be given in Dennison hall, Newtonville, Thursday evening, March 2. The talent will be the best that can be procured and will consist of high-class music, readings, comedy and magic. Among the artists are:
Mr. Warren Richards, of Boston, impersonator; Brignatti, the magician; Miss Eva May Hiltz, soprano, and others. The famous Savin Hill crew of ladies, under Capt. Agnes I.
Kersey will give an exhibition drill
and illustrate the work of resuscitation, in costume. In its great work of preventing death by drowning,
the corps is dependent on private subscription for its support; this chance to aid in the good work should appeal to many. Tickets on sale at the hall.

CLIMBING THE MOUNTAIN OF LIFE.

Long ago with shouts and laughter
Rose a fair haired little boy;
Toward a rugged frowning summit,
Whose dark peaks he hailed with joy.

Fair the foothills were, and pleasant,
Flower bedecked their easy slope,
Birds their happy songs outpouring
All the harmonies awoke.

On and on with feet unwavering Tolled he, till the noontide sun
Found the boy a man, still eager,
For the heights as yet unwon.

Then to cheer his journey upward,
Others came and joined him there,
And the voices of dear children
Made the day so sweet and rare.

That when afternoon's long shadows
Found him toiling on alone,
God, who knew how stout his soul was,
Held but once a smothered moan.

Gathering up his slackened courage,
Planting deep his staff and rod,
Climbing upward, still, our pilgrim
Nears serene, the heights of God.

And the watchers from the valley
Send their greeting and Goodspeed,
Up the mountain side to cheer him,
Who has climbed the heights indeed.

Margaret E. Hudson.

The above lines were sent to Mr.
Warren P. Tyler on his 84th birthday.

Rev. WM. J. DAWSON,
Who preaches in Eliot Church next Sunday
at 10:30 A. M.

MUSICALS.

A very interesting event of the week was the delightful musicale
given by the Misses Ethel V. and Alice Sampson on Tuesday evening at their residence 957 Washington street.
Over one hundred guests were present and heartily enjoyed the exceptionally well selected program, every number of which was artistically rendered and elicited enthusiastic applause. The solo pianist was Miss Laura Henry of Watertown who gave several selections with the musical intelligence and beauty of execution
for which her playing is noted.

Violin solos were contributed by Miss Josephine Bates of Cambridge accompanied by her sister. Vocal numbers were given by Miss Josephine Hewins of Dedham, Miss Ruth Crandall and Miss Alice Sampson
both of Newtonville and Mr. Richard Henry of Watertown with fine effect.
Miss Seymour of Chicago, Miss Ethel Sampson and Miss Nina Crandell were the accompanists.

MOTHERS REST.

Rest Association will be held in the chapel of the Congregational church on Friday, March 3, at 3 o'clock.

THE WORLD'S RECORD

In Automobile Racing Held by Mr. Louis S. Ross of Newtonville.

The Wogglebug and What it Accomplished at the Recent Tournament at Ormond.

Mr. Louis S. Ross of Clyde street, Newtonville, a native and life long resident of the city, has the proud distinction of holding the world's records in automobile racing, won in competition with the best racing machines of the world at the recent tournament at Ormond, Fla.

Mr. Ross used a freak automobile made by himself, a complete description of which is given below, and named "The Wogglebug."

These races took place on a beach varying from 300 to 800 feet in width, and which for about twenty miles had been surveyed and marked off into miles and kilometers. The timing was entirely automatic and electrical in action. The machine passing over a wire at the start, fires a pistol and sets six stop watches in action. Passing over another wire at the finish, another pistol is fired and the watches stopped. These watches are in sets of three so it is possible to obtain the time at intermediate points. A crowd of nearly eight thousand people were in attendance and the races usually started near the clubhouse at Daytona although varied from day to day on account of the condition of the beach and tide.

The beach this year was not nearly as good as in 1904 when Mr. Vanderbilt made his record of 39 seconds against time. A hard beach and a strong gale of wind were factors in the Vanderbilt record, while this year the beach was softer and the wind light.

The machines entered included absolutely the best racing machines in the world, although none were available for touring purposes, and were all limited to the maximum weight of 2204 pounds. In the weighing in of some it was even necessary to remove the oil from the crank boxes in order to qualify. The Bowden car which made the fast time of 32.4-5 seconds, could not qualify for the races on account of its excessive weight. In all of the competing machines, the only one to approach the Wogglebug in point of speed was a 120 horse power, six cylinder Napier, valued at $23,000. All others were beaten from 300 to 1000 feet in the mile events.

Mr. Ross was entered in six races with his Wogglebug machine, and in one race with a Stanley stock runabout. He won first place in six of these events and second place in the seventh, establishing new world records for machines in competition, whether steam or gasoline. No American machine has ever approached his records and but two foreign machines.

On arriving at Ormond, Mr. Ross made a trial run of the Wogglebug making a mile in the unofficial time of 36 seconds. Satisfied with this performance, he housed the machine until the races and thus avoided the usual pre-racing gossip. He therefore completely astonished the crowd in the first heat of the one mile international championship, by winning in 41.2-5 seconds, with a lead of 600 feet over his nearest competitor. The final in this, the most important race of the week, was also won in 41.1-5 seconds, establishing a new world's record for machines in competition and winning the Sir Thomas Dewar cup, valued at $2000. This silver trophy is perpetual, similar to the America cup in yachting circles, and stands about three feet in height, beautifully engraved. It will be held by Mr. Ross for the current year, and he also receives a souvenir gold medal, appropriately inscribed.

The Wogglebug also captured the Clowry cup of silver, in a mile race for steam machines; the Corinthian cup, presented by Col. Levi C. Weir, for a mile race, amateur owners to drive, time 41.3-5 seconds; a silver loving cup in the mile competition for heavy weight machines, time 42.1-5 seconds; still another silver cup in the kilometer contest for heavy weight machines, and the second prize, a silver medal, in the contest for the Bowden trophy, being beaten by a length. Mr. Ross also won first place in the five mile race for stock cars using a Stanley runabout, and leading his nearest competitor a mile and a half at the finish, with a silver cup as a prize.

The Florida racing was all straightaway, but Mr. Ross has also made his mark on the circular track, where he has made a mile in 57.2-5 seconds, and ten miles in 10 minutes, 21 seconds. He thus holds every steam record from one to ten miles, for either track or straightaway courses.

Mr. Ross can give but little idea of the sensation of travelling at such high rates of speed. A mile in forty seconds is about the velocity attained by the fall of an ordinary man from a height of 300 feet, and it is self evident that if anything breaks about a machine, its operator would be instantly killed. Only the head is exposed and while the eyes are protected from the enormous wind pressure, the face feels its burning and stinging with spur gears. There is no differential or compensating device, but the rear axle is in separate halves, each engine and wheel being independent of the other. Both engines are controlled by one throttle, and any difference in speed of either engine due to turning corners, etc., is taken care of by the elasticity of the steam. The valves are ordinary D slide valves controlled by the Stephenson linked motion with open eccentrics and a variable cutoff ranging from 5-8 stroke to central position. The boiler is of the fire tube type 24 inches in diameter, 18 inches long with copper shell wound with steel wire and has 828 copper tubes 1-2 inch in diameter, with a heating surface of 144 square feet. It is capable of carrying a working pressure of 600 pounds to the square inch but 400 pounds is all that is ordinarily required.

The steam is controlled by means of a combined balanced throttle and pressure reducing valve directly on top of the boiler, and is superheated in the fire box after passing the throttle going directly to the engines effect. In steering it is usually sufficient to keep a steady hand on the lever, but it is possible to avoid the worst places in the sand if seen in time, but when it is realized that this time means travelling at the rate of 132 feet in one second, it is evident that the action of the hand must follow closely upon the prompt decision of the brain. The nervous strain involved in such racing is enormous and Mr. Ross expresses great relief that it is over.

A feature of a car travelling at such speed is the appearance it has of jumping and this is actually a fact if the marks of the wheels are examined. For distances of from five to twenty feet, the wheels do not leave an impression in the sand, and though the machine does not rise very far it is actually flying through the air.

The Wogglebug, stripped for racing weighs 1650 pounds, and with a margin of over 500 pounds, within the weight limit, Mr. Ross firmly believes he can build a car that will travel a mile in 30 seconds. With this in view he has recently sold the Wogglebug and will probably begin constructing a new car in the near future.

A description of the Wogglebug may be of interest, as it is an illustration of a scientific study of obtaining the maximum of speed with the minimum of power.

The machinery consists of two 3 x 4 double acting two cylinder engines, geared directly onto each rear wheel

after superheating. By this system of superheating the temperature of the steam remains practically constant regardless of the pressure required to drive the car. By passing the steam through a coil of pipe in the firebox before reaching the engines, its temperature is greatly increased, any entrained moisture or condensation being instantly converted into dry steam. The limit of superheat being controlled by the difficulty of cylinder lubrication at temperatures approaching 700 degrees F.

Heat is furnished by burning gasoline in a tank under an air pressure of about 100 pounds. This pressure being maintained automatically by pumps connected with the engines. Gasoline flows through a coil over the boiler where it is vaporized and then goes in the form of gas to the burner, mixing with air in a mixing tube and burning with a blue flame after passing through a series of narrow slots in an iron casting.

Water is furnished the boiler by means of direct connected single-acting pumps, one to each engine, and with a variable stroke. The action of the pumps is continuous, any excess of water being returned to the feed tank by a hand regulated valve. The water level is ascertained by trip-cocks on a water column a glass being unreliable at high pressures and sudden changes of temperature due to water level changing on curves.

Cylinder lubrication is provided for

by an oil pump, one to each engine and working the same as the water pump. Hand oiler is also provided, together with independent steam and air pumps also injector capable of feeding against 450 pounds pressure. The tread is of standard width, but wheel base is 108 inches. Steering is controlled by a vertical lever in the left hand of operator, turning being accomplished by pushing or pulling this lever as required, the front axle being given sufficient rake to cause steering gear to practically righten itself as soon as pressure on it is relieved. Hand brakes are furnished on each rear wheel and in combination with the foot reverse to engines furnish an efficient means of quickly stopping the car at any speed. The arrangement of machinery is, engines being hung directly to and back of rear axle, oil and water pumps back of these. Boiler is directly in front of rear axle on the extreme left hand side, and operator sits on left side directly in front of boiler. This throws greater weight on one side than the other when the car is at rest, but is intended to be in nearly perfect balance when taking curves on a circular track at high speed, due to the centrifugal force. The frame is angle steel hung on semi-elliptical inverted springs, and is slightly higher in the rear than in front, the lowest part of car, the burner, clearing the ground by about two inches. The wheels are 30 x 3 1-2 inches rear and 30 x 3 inches front, with wire spokes and disk covered.

An aluminum cover is placed over the entire car, an opening large enough for the driver's head being left in it. This body is pointed both front and rear, and while the general appearance of the car is decidedly out of the ordinary, yet it was not designed with the intention of making a freak car, but of securing the maximum of speed with the minimum of power. The car weighs empty 1650 pounds and has seating accommodations for two persons.

Hick's Almanac for 1905 can be obtained at the GRAPHIC Office for 25 cents a copy, and is free to old and new subscribers who pay their subscriptions in advance. Hick's almanac is one of the most remarkable productions of the new century. He predicted the earthquake last spring within 96 hours and his weather predictions are simply astounding in their accuracy.

The Impenetrable Turk.

Collecting money from Turkey is a heart-breaking enterprise. A distinguished American once went there to collect a debt of $500,000 owing to an English syndicate, which included two members of parliament and a cabinet minister. He expected to see the business through in two or three months. But a foreign ambassador undeceived him. "Say three or four months and then you will be as far off from obtaining your money as you are today," he remarked. Men had gone out there to prosecute claims, he added, whose hair had turned gray with the strain to which they were subjected and who had gone home thoroughly broken in health, unable to obtain a Turkish lira to show for years of fruitless labor. One victim of Turkish duplicity and procrastination died in a lunatic asylum. One of the embassies had been twenty-five years prosecuting claims without realizing a cent.

Was on Forbidden Ground.

"A debating society was formed in one of the counties of my district," said a Kentucky congressman, "and among the first questions debated was, 'Resolved, That the negroes have more cause for complaint than the Indians.' It was stipulated the arguments should be confined to the United States. The first disputant on the affirmative opened with a speech to sustain his position, every word of which was listened to with close attention by the chairman. The disputant for the negative made a few remarks in answer and then turned to the Bible and commenced reading passages for the purpose of proving that some of the points made by his opponent were not backed up by the good book.

"The chairman stopped him with: 'Halt right where you are, Jim. Don't go any further. You have gone out of the United States for argument.'" —Nashville Banner.

A Robust Babe.

Sir John Richard Robinson in his "Fifty Years of Fleet Street" tells of an amusing incident during the visit of the Swazi deputation from the Transvaal to England at the close of 1894: "The Swazi braves went to Windsor and had an audience of her majesty Queen Victoria. They were very graciously received. One of their number began to speak, and an interpreter followed him phrase by phrase. 'We come, O great mother; he said, to bring to you our babe. Take him, O mother, to thy knees; fold him to thy breast! Here the queen, half frightened, exclaimed: 'But where is the child? I don't see him. Where is he?' 'Here, O mother,' said the Swazi bravely, at the same time bringing forward a big black about six feet high and weighing well over 200 pounds. 'He is here.'"

Flogging.

The Jewish rabbis had a legend which carries corporal punishment back to the days of our first parents, which is quaintly reflected in that modern schoolboy's play upon names, "Adam Seth Eve Cain Abel."

Of course there is, too, the warning of Solomon, "He that spareth the rod hateth his son," or the old Egyptian proverb, "The back of a lad is made that he may be beaten to him that beats it," but if we must go on history alone the earliest records belong to the Romans, who practiced flogging in several degrees of severity.

There were the fella, a flat strip of leather, a comparatively mild punishment; the scutica, a harsher instrument of twisted parchment, and the flagellum, a cruel scourge of leather thongs.

Diamonds on Board Ship.

Millions of dollars' worth of diamonds are imported into this country every year. In carrying packages of such tremendous value over seas extraordinary precautions are taken. They are immured in strong safes and so carefully guarded that not an instance has ever been recorded in which diamonds have been lost or stolen, though a man could easily walk off with half a million dollars' worth of gems in his waistcoat pockets were it not that it is one of the most difficult undertakings in the world to commit such a theft or even to find where the gems are stored on shipboard.

Coffins as Furniture.

A man living at Queensbury not only uses his coffin as a piece of household furniture, but he has also a grave made in the local churchyard headed by a gravestone on which his name is set out in conventional style. Underneath is the line, "Not dead, but waiting."

One man at Tong, near Bradford, kept his Sunday clothes in his coffin, and another, who ate porridge at breakfast, used his coffin as a meal bin.

Some years ago a Kelghly man kept butterfly specimens in his coffin.—London Mail.

Shaftesbury's Retort.

When a member of a church congress at Manchester argued that the introduction of the custom of cremation would endanger belief in the resurrection of the dead the reply of Lord Shaftesbury silenced any further doubt when he asked, "What, then, has become of the holy martyrs who were cremated?"

The Fountain of Youth.

Mr. Jones—My daughter is only eighteen. You had better wait until she is older. The Lover—Well, I've waited two years for her to get older, but she still stays at eighteen.—Judge.

The Usual Cause.

"Reggie, can you spell kitten?" "No, mother." "But what do you go to school for?" "Only cause you make me, mother," said Reggie sadly.

What makes life dreary is the want of motive.

Literary Notes.

From cover to cover the March McClure's teems with interest. In the discussion of vital topics, in romance, in action, in humor, and in verse, it runs the gamut of human experience.

The subtleties of franchise-getting, the great game of the greatest spoliars of the public purse, become the merest simplicities after the clarifying brain of Ray Stannard Baker has digested them in "The Subway Deal" which is the leading story of this number. Mr. Baker digs deep into the "deal" and turns up the roots for the light of publicity to kill. In "Modern Surgery" Samuel Hopkins Adams dissipates the fog that for the common mortal clothes the body and its affairs. It is a fascinating narrative. The second instalment of "The Golden Flood"—Edwin Lefevre's Wall Street mystery novel—carries tense interest. Whence comes this golden avalanche that threatens the financial world with annihilation? Mary Stewart Cutting has another "Little Story of Courtship," a sweet tale of the winning of the right girl. Then there is the reappearance of Marlon Hill's ever delightful twins. She leads Mrs. Pettison's sterilized cherubs to brief, blissful freedom from their germ-proof paradise and hours of happy grubbing in a very exceedingly dirty back alley. Three more good bits of fiction are "A Wasted Rehearsal," a charming little comedy of conversation, by Jeanette Cooper; "Three-foes" a good old fashioned bear story and the "Maestro of Balangilang," another of James Hopper's stories of the Philippines. This is a stirring tale of a good fight. William Butler Yeats, the Gaelic revivalist, has contributed a beautiful fragment of an ancient Irish legend in "Red Hauran's Vision." Post-office Auditor Henry A. Castle writes amusingly of the experience of his office, and "Colonel Lumkin," John McAuley Palmer's reformed wire-puller, delivers a humorous and telling satire on party loyalty in "The Man in the Pigeonhole." Another notable article in this number is the latest instalment of John La Farge's distinguished series on masterpieces of paintings.

Coming Attractions

Boston Theatre—The attraction at the Boston Theatre this week and next is that greatest of all New England plays, "Quincy Adams Sawyer," which is playing a return engagement in response to an unprecedented demand. "Quincy Adams Sawyer" has the same big company, the same cast of principals and the same production that attracted such large audiences when it opened the season of the Boston Theatre last fall. Two weeks is the limit of the present engagement and the sale of seats is in such brisk progress that those who wish to see the show will do well to secure seats well in advance. A souvenir afternoon and evening have been arranged for Wednesday March 1st, during the second week of the engagement. This will be unusual for instead of a single souvenir performance there will be two, both afternoon and evening.

Keith's Theatre—Albert Chevalier, the most famous of all English character comedians, is to be the headline attraction of Keith's vaudeville the week of Feb. 27. Mr. Chevalier will appear in a repertoire of his best songs making a complete change of costume for each, and he is to appear now where else in New England. The surrounding show includes the Dumonds, a trio of Italian street singers and musicians; the four Huntings in an uproariously funny comedy, "A Night in the Fool House"; Herr Tschow, the famous German animal trainer, who is to exhibit the only troupe of educated cats in the world; Lawrence Crane, skilful magician and illusionist; the Meakin-Lawrence trio, blackface comedians, singers and dancers; John Birch, who presents an entire melodrama in which the only changes of apparel he makes are confined to his headgear, and Mr. and Mrs. Perkins Fisher, in the delightful rural comedy sketch, "The Half Way House." An exhibition of Jiu Jitsu by Japanese acrobats is announced to be given the week of March 6.

Colonial Theatre—A new era in pantomimic spectacle in New England will be inaugurated at the Colonial Theatre in Boston Monday evening, March 20th, when Klaw and Erlanger will begin an engagement of their latest Drury Lane production, "Humpty Dumpty." The management of Drury Lane gives the cost of the scenery and costumes for this production at $155,000. Klaw and Erlanger spent many thousands more in adapting it to the New Amsterdam stage and in providing new mechanical effects and complicated trick scenery. Quite a contrast between this "Humpty Dumpty" and that of 1868, when an outlay of $5000 on a production was thought enormous. Quite a contrast, too, in the number of people employed. There are eighty-four men employed under the stage working traps in this presentation, more than were employed in every capacity in the Fox or Denier "Humpty Dumpty" productions. Klaw and Erlanger's "Humpty Dumpty" is staged in three acts and twelve massive scenes representing the Walls of King Solomon's Castle, The Throne Room, An Enchanted Wood, A Fairy Forest, The Royal Kitchen, Terrace of the Castle, The Siren's Home, Anemones, Retreat, The City of Coral, Under the Sea, The Kingdom of Misrule, The Palace Eyrice and a wonderful transformation called "The Four Seasons of Wedlock." The scene of the City of Coral at the end of the second act presents a remarkably beautiful submarine effect. In this scene and the final transformation, the brilliant ballets are presented with over 300 people in gorgeous costumes.

Grand Opera House—Farce comedy interwoven into melodrama is a new idea and is what the patrons of the Boston Grand Opera House will see in "Her First False Step," which is the attraction at that theatre next week. A company of thirty people and two carloads of scenery are required to properly present the drama, which is easily acknowledged to be the biggest production playing to popular prices this season. Matinees are on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday as usual.

His Faith Unshaken.
One day the chodja prayed aloud that God would send him a thousand plasters. "A full thousand! I could not take less!" said he in concluding his prayer. A rich man who had heard the chodja praying thought he would try his consistency and next day placed a bag containing 999 plasters in his way. The chodja found the bag and counted the money, but as he was turning to carry it home the tempter stepped from behind a wall and cried: "Yesterday in your prayer you said you could not take less than a thousand plasters, and I wished to show you your inconsistency. Leave that money. It is mine!" "Oh, no," said the chodja. "This money God sent me in answer to my prayer, and I shall take it home, trusting that he who sent me 999 plasters will send me one more to complete the thousand." There is no inconsistency, but plenty of faith in me!" And he walked away well satisfied, carrying the bag. — Good Words.

A Roman Butcher's Shop.
The Museum of Antiquities at Dresden has an interesting marble relief from Rome which represents an ancient butcher shop of oblong shape divided by a pillar into two unequal parts. In the greater stands the butcher, with a high chopping block resting on three substantial legs before him, while behind him hang the steelyard and a cleaver, he himself being occupied in dividing a rib of meat with an other cleaver. On the wall above him, just as with us, is a row of hooks near to each other, on which hang pieces of meat already dressed—a rib and a leg of meat, a pork joint and udders (a tidbit of the Romans); also lungs and liver, and last of all the favorite boar's head. On the left, in the smaller division of the shop, the wife of the butcher sits in an easy chair, with an account book on her knees, engaged in assisting the business of her husband by acting as bookkeeper.

Tender Hearted Butchers.
One who has been employed these thirty years in slaughter houses as bookkeeper, salesman, etc., tells me: "To say that butchers are hard hearted is far from the truth—that is, in most cases. Let me explain how the shedding of human blood affects them. I once saw a butcher cut his hand very severely, and not one of his twenty or more associates could be induced to go near to assist him. I had to bandage him up as well as I could and send him to a hospital. Another butcher who had helped slaughter from 2,000 to 4,000 hogs a day for years saw a woman throw herself before a freight train, which mangled her fearfully. He promptly fainted. I have seen more than a hundred fights at slaughter houses, but never yet saw a butcher attempt to use a knife."—New York Press.

The Widow's Cap.
A very ancient origin, dating back to the time of the old Egyptians, has the widow's cap. The Greeks borrowed from the latter the custom of shaving the head and beard in time of mourning. The Romans copied, but, being a smooth shaven people, had only the head upon which to operate. This, when shaved, they covered with a wig. The women did not necessarily shave their heads, but they were careful to hide their hair beneath a cap. The use of crapes upon the arm is a naval and military emblem of bereavement, come down to us from days of chivalry, when ladies fair bound scarfs upon the arms of their champions as they went to test their skill and courage in the tournament.

Right Doing.
One's rightful work is often halted by fear of what others will say about it. This may be even more a barrier to the work than the fear of not doing the work at all. It takes courage to do what we believe we ought to do when we think we shall be criticised or misunderstood or scorned. But the real calamity lies in not doing what we ought. Of this it is well to have so strong a fear that we shall have courage to face whatever others may say of our right doing.—Maxwell's Talismans.

Easy Language to Learn.
Mr. George Wyndham, M. P., in his Glasgow address as rector of the university alluded to the story that the Scots who founded the kingdom of Dalriada killed all the men and women who were Picts and spoke their own Aryan language. "I know that only five words of the Pictish tongue remain," he said. "In an examination which allowed to candidates a free choice from all languages I should select the Pictish language. It can be mastered in one minute."

A Drawback.
"Every time you speak," said the good fairy, "pearls and diamonds will drop from your lips."
"But," faltered the gentle maid, "don't you think that, under such circumstances, pearls and diamonds may become too dreadfully common?"

Progressive.
A man who had kept a hog in his pen for a year and a half was asked why he didn't kill it and begin to raise another pig, and he replied that he supposed he must keep a hog all the time anyway and he might as well keep that one as any other.

Sure Sign of Old Age.
A man may know that he is approaching old age when he ceases to struggle to be among the first to leave a railroad car when he is in no particular hurry.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Women can always look volumes. Why should they trouble to write them?—Edwin Page.

A Comedian's Joke.
A celebrated Irish comedian went into a barber's shop to get shaved and, finding the barber out, he determined to have a little fun before his return. So he took off his coat, put on a thinner one and quietly waited for a customer. An old gentleman came in soon. "Shave, sir?" said our pretended barber.
The old gentleman took a chair and the comedian began to lather, expecting every moment the barber would appear. Five minutes passed and no barber. Five more and still no barber. The joker began to get desperate and conceived a bright idea. Putting up his brush he quickly changed his coat again, took his hat, and was about to quietly step out behind the gentleman's back when that worthy turned his head and exclaimed:
"Here, sir, aren't you going to shave me?"
"No, sir," promptly replied the comedian. "The fact is, we only lather here, sir. They shave four doors below."

Gentle Hint to Restaurant Patrons.
The necessity of tipping with a lavish hand is strongly enforced in a restaurant near the station at Pomfret. In a prominent position is placed a gaudily framed sketch of the interior of the dining room, with two clients taking their departure. One of them, a cowed looking individual, is struggling into his overcoat, while two waiters stand near him, the one smiling derisively at the other, who displays a tiny coin with a gesture of fierce contempt. On the opposite side of the room a guest is seen surrounded by three waiters, one helping him with his coat, another brushing his hat, the third bowing obsequiously and holding his walking stick.
The moral is obvious, but allowance is made for the proverbial obtuseness of northern nations, and underneath the picture is inscribed in large letters, "The Results of Benevolence."—London Chronicle.

A Costly Commis.
A number of years ago when the United States by its congress was making a tariff bill one of the sections enumerated what articles should be admitted free of duty. Among the many articles specified were "all foreign fruits, plants," etc., meaning plants imported for transplanting, propagation or experiment. The enrolling clerk in copying the bill accidentally changed the hyphen in the compound word "fruits-plants" to a comma, making it read, "all foreign fruits, plants," etc. As a result of this simple mistake for a year, or until congress could remedy the blunder, all the oranges, lemons, bananas, grapes and other foreign fruits were admitted free of duty. This little mistake, which any one would be liable to make, yet could have avoided by carefulness, cost the government not less than $2,000,000. A pretty costly comma that.

First Book Auction.
Speaking of auctions and auctioneers, a book dealer says: "The first book auction in England of which we have any record is of a date as far back as 1576, when the library of Dr. Seaman was brought to the hammer. Prefixed to the catalogue there is an address which thus begins: 'Reader, it hath not been usual here in England to make sale of books by way of auction, or who will give the most for them; but, it having been practiced in other countries to the advantage of both buyers and sellers, it was therefore conceived (for the encouragement of learning) to publish the sale of these books in this manner of way.'"

When London Is Silent.
When a very dense fog settled over the Thames valley a few Sundays ago, most densely over London it imposed a complete silence on animal life. London was itself as silent as the grave, for all traffic was stopped, and, as on Sunday traffic of any kind is reduced to a minimum, the great city was almost as still as a country village at midnight. The streets and even the river were almost without a sound, for not a single tug was moving on the Thames. In the country no bird uttered a sound. They all sat still, silent and moping.

Forestry Reserves.
The first forestry reserves were made for the general object of preserving the forest and without specific relation to the great problem for which later they were to provide the only solution. Now they are seen to stand at the center of public land policy of the nation, for out of them come the wood and the water and the grass which are indispensable for the founding of homes.—Gifford Pinchot.

Nothing Like Leather.
At a public sale of books the auctioneer put up Drew's "Essay on Souls," which was knocked down to a shoe-maker, who very innocently, but to the great amusement of the crowd, soon asked if there were any more books on shoemaking to be sold.

She Was It.
Ho (enthusiastically)—I love everything that is grand, beautiful, poetic and lovely. I love the peerless, the serene and the perfect in life. She—How you must love me, darling! Why did you not propose before?

The Tragedies of the Stage.
Old Friend—is your part very difficult to play? Barnstomper—Well, rather! I'm living on one meal a day and playing the role of a man with the gout.—Detroit Free Press.

A good action is never lost. It is a treasure laid up and guarded for the door's need.—Calderon.

Pray's

Carpets, Rugs, Upholstery

Assortment the Largest,
Prices the Lowest for Quality Offered.

Our bargains are made by marking down our own stock to a low price, not by purchasing inferior goods to make an attractive price.

It is a mistake to infer that we carry only high-priced fabrics. We have medium grades as well, and our prices are low because our expenses are proportioned over a volume of business exceeded by few in our specialty in the United States, and equaled by none in New England.
